New Delhi, the 16th October 1962

S.O. 3202.— In pursuance of section 106 of the Representation of the People Act, 1951, the Election Commission hereby publishes the Order pronounced on the 21st September, 1962, by the Election Tribunal, Aligarh.

ELECTION TRIBUNAL, ALIGARH (DISTRICT JUDGE'S COURT)

PRESENT: Shri S. P. Roy

ELECTION PETITION No. 314 of 1962.

Nardeo—Petitioner.

1. Jeoti Swarup
2. Piarey Lal, and
3. Ganga Sahai—Respondents

JUDGMENT

The petitioner has filed this election petition under Ss. 80 and 81 of the Representation of People Act 1951. By this petition the petitioner has called in question the election of respondent 1 as member of the Lok Sabha from 76-Hathras Parliamentary Constituency.

In the last general elections there were four contesting candidates from the Parliamentary Constituency in question, viz., the petitioner and the three respondents. The election to the Parliamentary Constituency was held on three dates, viz., February 21, 23 and 25, 1962. The petitioner was a candidate of the Congress Party, the respondent 1 was a candidate of the Republican Party, the respondent 2 was a candidate of the Jansangh Party and the respondent 3 was an independent candidate. The respondent 1 secured the highest number of votes in the election and as such was declared elected by the Returning Officer on March 1, 1962.

The petitioner has called in question the election of the respondent 1 mainly on the allegations that the respondent 1 himself indulged in corrupt practices of different kinds detailed in the petition and he has also attributed corrupt practices to some of his agents, Palokars and workers in some form or the other. In Para. 16 of the petition two types of corrupt practices have been alleged for the respondent 1 and some others and Para. 16 of the petition may be quoted in full here:

"That three meetings were organised in Villages Mithai, Bisana Kunwarpore which were important villages of the petitioners Constituency and which were addressed by Shri B. P. Maurya, Shri Bed Ram Kardam, Shri Dori Lal and Respondent No. 1 himself and other leaders of Republican Party. Unhealthy propaganda against petitioner was made in speeches and the sentiments of Voters were aroused by slogan that "Soul of Dr. Ambedh Kar will be hurt if Jatavs voted for petitioner and his soul will not Pardon them".

At the time of clearing of pleadings on the date of issues the learned counsel for the petitioner made his statement with regard to Para. 16 of the petition in the following terms: "With regard to Para. 16 of the petition my statement is that respondent 1 committed two corrupt practices: (a) undue influence by raising slogans that 'soul of Dr. Ambedh Kar will be hurt if Jatavs voted for petitioner and his soul will not pardon them' in the three meetings in village as detailed in Schedule I, and (b) hatred between the different communities by raising the slogans in the three meetings 'Jatav-Muslim Bhai Bhai, Hindu qaum kahan se avi' as detailed in Schedule I attached to the petition. The words 'and other Leaders of Republican Party' in line 5 of the para are withdrawn." The details of other corrupt practices alleged by the petitioner in the petition and the other allegations by which the election of the respondent 1 has been questioned are not necessary at this stage and hence are not given. The prayer of the petitioner is that it be declared that the election of the respondent 1 is void and the petitioner be declared elected in his place in the Parliamentary Constituency in question with the attending declaration that the respondent 1 be disqualified for six years for having deliberately and knowingly committed corrupt practices under S. 123 of the Act. The petitioner has also claimed his costs and incidental expenses from the respondent 1.

Only the respondent 1 is contesting the petition and he has filed a written statement denying all the main allegations of the petitioner on which he has questioned the election of the respondent 1. As many as 12 issues have been framed on the pleadings of the parties but it is not necessary to reproduce them here at this stage.

On September 12, 1962 the respondent 1 called upon the petitioner to give parentage, address and other particulars of Sri B. P. Maurya, Sri Bed Ram Kardam and Sri Dori Lal Maurya and some others against whom allegations of corrupt practices were made by the petitioner in his petition (vide paper No. 69/Ga 2). The learned counsel for the petitioner undertook to supply the information by September 15, 1962 and he did accordingly (vide paper No. 71/Ga 2). Thereupon on September 17, 1962 the respondent 1 made an application (vide paper No. 75/Ga 2) alleging that Sri B. P. Maurya to whom the petitioner has attributed some corrupt practices in his petition was a candidate in the last general elections from 77-Allgarh Parliamentary Constituency as a candidate of the Republican Party and he too was declared elected like the respondent 1 from 76-Hathras Parliamentary Constituency. As Sri Maurya was a candidate at the election and as allegations of corrupt practices have been made against him in the petition it was mandatory for the petitioner to join him as a respondent in his petition (under S. 82 of the Act). Omission to join him as a respondent is a fatal defect in the petition and renders the petition liable to be dismissed without further hearing, and the prayer is that it should be dismissed under S. 90(3) of the Act for non-compliance of the provisions of S. 82 of the Act. The application was taken up on September 18, 1962 (the date fixed for hearing in the petition) and on this date the petitioner filed a written reply (vide paper No. 76/Ga 2) to the application of the respondent 1 presented on September 17, 1962 mentioning that the application of the respondent 1 is entirely misconceived and the plea raised in the application cannot be raised except by leave of the court which has not been obtained. It is also mentioned in the reply to the application of the respondent 1 that since Sri B. P. Maurya was not a candidate for election in 76-Hathras Parliamentary Constituency he was not required to be impleaded under the provisions of S.82(b) of the Act. In view of the application of the respondent 1 (vide paper No. 75/Ga 2) the proceedings in the petition could not be commenced on the date fixed (September 18, 1962) and arguments of both the parties in connection with the application of the respondent 1 (paper No 75/Ga 2) were heard.

Two points require determination in this connection. First whether it is permissible to the respondent 1 to raise the plea, viz., the petition is liable to be dismissed in limine for non-joinder of Sri B. P. Maurya as a party to the petition, and secondly, whether Sri B. P. Maurya is a necessary party to the petition. I shall take up the two points in order.

It is not the contention of the petitioner himself that the plea in question cannot be raised at all but his contention is that it can be raised with the permission of the court which has not been obtained. It is purely a question of law and even if no prior permission of the court was obtained in this regard it can be accorded subsequently and I accorded the permission (of course orally) at the time of hearing arguments of both the parties. A somewhat similar objection was raised in a case B. T. Bhosle v. M. S. Aney [(1961) A.I.R. Bombay 29] where the Tribunal permitted the objection to be raised and when the matter came up before the High Court it found no objection to the granting of the permission by the Tribunal to raise the objection and made the following further observation: "Moreover, the raising of the ground did not involve a consideration of any new facts. It was purely a ground of law, and under the provisions of S.82(b) read with S.90(3) the Tribunal itself was bound to take into account the defect such as was pointed out. The provisions of S.90(3) make it the duty of the Tribunal to dismiss an election petition which does not comply with the provisions of Sec. 82. Therefore, upon the facts coming to its notice the Tribunal itself could have proceeded to take action under S.82(b)."

S.82 runs as follows:

"A petitioner shall join as respondents to his petition—

- (a) where the petitioner, in addition to claiming a declaration that the election of all or any of the returned candidates is void, claims a further declaration that he himself or any other candidate has been duly elected, all the contesting candidates other than the petitioner, and where no such further declaration is claimed, all the returned candidates; and
- (b) any other candidate against whom allegations of any corrupt practice are made in the petition."

It is not disputed that Sri B. P. Maurya was also a candidate for the Parliamentary Seat from the sister constituency 77-Allgarh Parliamentary Constituency and further that he was elected as a candidate from that constituency. The argument of the learned counsel for the petitioner is that 'any other candidate' in S.82(b) would refer to a candidate of the constituency in question, i.e. 76-Hathras Parliamentary Constituency. In other words, S.82(b) should be read subject to the provisions of S.82(a) and not independently. I am unable to accept this argument as the Hon'ble Allahabad High Court in Chaturbhuj v. Election Tribunal Kanpur [(1958) 15E.L.R.301 at 308] has observed

"Clearly, therefore, clause (b) of section 82 of the Act introduces the requirement of certain persons being impleaded as respondents in the petition with a purpose which is entirely different and distinct from the purpose for which persons are to be impleaded as respondents under clause (a) of section 82 of the Act or the purpose for which persons were to be impleaded as respondents in an election petition under section 82 of the unamended Act."

S.82 of the unamended Act was in the following terms:

"A petitioner shall join as respondents to his petition all the candidates who were duly nominated at the election other than himself if he was so nominated."

The whole of S.82 of the unamended Act was substituted by S.45 of Act 27 of 1956 and the omission of the words 'at the election' in clause (b) of the amended section after the beginning words 'any other candidate' are significant. In B. T. Bhosle v. M. S. Aney referred to above while interpreting S.82(b) their Lordships of the Bombay High Court at page 33 column 2 laid down as follows: "It may be observed that there is no qualification put on the words 'any other candidate' in clause (b). We do not see any reason why any other meaning should be imported into the clause. Thus, the plain meaning of the clause would be that so long as allegations of corrupt practices are made in the petition against a candidate, he must be made a party to the election petition. It is not necessary that the allegation must be that he committed the corrupt practices as a candidate or even that he committed the corrupt practices in his own interests."

It will be relevant to see in this connection the definition of the word 'candidate' in S.79 of the Act and the relevant portion of the section is reproduced below:

"In this Part and in Parts VII and VIII, unless the context otherwise requires,—

(b) 'candidate' means a person who has been or claims to have been duly nominated as a candidate at any election, and any such person shall be deemed to have been a candidate as from the time when, with the election in prospect, he began to hold himself out as a prospective candidate."

while interpreting the definition the Hon'ble Allahabad High Court in Chaturbhuj v. Election Tribunal Kanpur referred to above has observed at page 316 as follows:

"The language used in the definition and the purpose for which the definition has been given thus lead to the inference that the word 'candidate' was intended to cover every person who has at any time been duly nominated as a candidate at any election." A narrower interpretation on the word 'candidate' was sought to be put as defined in S.79(b) of the Act on the basis of the unamended S.79(b) of the Act but the Hon'ble Allahabad High Court in Chaturbhuj v. Election Tribunal Kanpur in that connection (in 15 E.L.R. 312) has observed as follows:

"In the present Act, therefore, the expression "at any election" used in the definition of the word "candidate" in section 79(b) cannot be interpreted in the manner in which it was open to interpretation under the unamended Act and consequently the interpretation which was placed by this court in the case cited above cannot be applied to the present Act."

It will also be relevant to see the definition of 'election' as given in the Act and I may quote the relevant portion of S.2 here:

"In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires—

(d) 'election' means an election to fill a seat or seats in either House of Parliament or in the House or either House of the Legislature of a State other than the State of Jammu and Kashmir".

The words 'or seats' in the definition of the word 'election' are significant. It would refer to other candidates in the election since there are no longer two member constituencies anywhere except in the State of Gujarat in relation to Assembly Constituency only. [Vide the Two-Member Constituencies (Abolition) Act, 1961]. In view of the definitions of the words 'candidate' and 'election' as given in the Representation of People Act the words 'any other candidate' in S.82(b) would include a candidate in another constituency also in the election.

S.99(1) of the Act lays down:

"At the time of making an order under Section 98 the Tribunal shall also make an order—

- (a) where any charge is made in the petition of any corrupt practice having been committed at the election, recording—
 - (i) a finding whether any corrupt practice has or has not been proved to have been committed at the election, and the nature of that corrupt practice; and
 - (ii) the names of all person, if any, who have been proved at the trial to have been guilty of any corrupt practice and the nature of that practice; and
- (b) fixing the total amount of costs payable, and specifying the persons by and to whom costs shall be paid:

Provided that a person who is not a party to the petition shall not be named in the order under sub-clause (if) of clause (a) unless—

- (a) he has been given notice to appear before the Tribunal and to show cause why he should not be so named; and
- (b) if he appears in pursuance of the notice, he has been given an opportunity of cross-examining any witness who has already been examined by the Tribunal and has given evidence against him, of calling evidence in his defence and of being heard."

S.7(a) of the Act lays down:

"A person shall be disqualified for being chosen as, and for being, a member of either House of Parliament or of the Legislative Assembly or Legislative Council of a State—

- (a) if, whether before or after the commencement of the Constitution, he has been convicted, or has, in proceedings for questioning the validity or regularity of an election, been found to have been guilty, of any offence or corrupt practice which has been declared by Section 139 or Section 140 to be an offence or practice entailing disqualification for membership of Parliament and of the Legislature of every State, unless such period has elapsed as has been provided in that behalf in the said Section 139 or Section 140, as the case may be or the Election Commission has removed the disqualification;"

S. 140 of the Act lays down:

"The corrupt practices specified in Section 123 shall entail disqualification for membership of Parliament and of the Legislature of every State for a period of six years counting from the date on which the finding of the Election Tribunal as to such practice takes effect under this Act."

When such serious consequences would follow for indulging in a corrupt practice by a candidate it is but necessary that a candidate should be given the privilege of a hearing from the initial stage of the petition and not to be brought in at a later stage in the manner given in S.99 of the Act. It would seem that with that end in view the Legislature made the amendment of S.82 of the Act and by introducing clause (b) of the section it made the provisions of the section wide enough to cover all other candidates against whom allegations of corrupt practice are made in the petition. If such other candidates not contesting the election in the constituency are not given the privilege of hearing from the initial stage of the petition that would amount to an unjustified discrimination between them and those contesting the election in the constituency, and reference in this connection may be made to pages 320 and 321 of the ruling of the Hon'ble Allahabad High Court in Chaturbhuj v. Election Tribunal Kanpur referred to above.

From what has been said above it is clear that Sri B. P. Maurya is a necessary party to the petition under S.82(b) of the Act as allegations of corrupt practice has been made against him in the petition.

It is now to be seen what is the effect of non-compliance with the provisions of S.82 of the Act. Under S.85 of the Act it is open to the Election Commission to have dismissed the petition. But it can not be contended that since the Election Commission has not dismissed the petition the Election Tribunal cannot do so now as S.90(3) clearly provides: "The Tribunal shall dismiss an election petition which does not comply with the provisions of Section 81 or Section 82 notwithstanding that it has not been dismissed by the Election Commission under Section 85." An order of dismissal under S.90(3) for non-compliance with the provisions of S.82 of the Act would be deemed to be an order passed under S.98 of the Act but such an order would not attract the provisions of S.99 of the Act. Reference may be made in this connection to the ruling of the Bombay High Court in B. T. Bhosle v. M. S. Aney already referred to.

The result is that the election petition must be and is dismissed. As the awarding of costs has been made discretionary with the Tribunal under S.120 of the Act and since I am not dismissing the petition at the conclusion of the trial but in limine I consider it reasonable to direct the parties to bear their own costs.

AUDIT CERTIFICATE

I have generally examined the foregoing accounts and the Balance Sheet of the Banaras Hindu University as on 31st March 1961 and according to the best of my information and explanations given to me and as shown by the books of the University, I certify, subject to the following comments that these accounts are properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the University :

REPLIES TO COMMENTS ON THE BALANCE SHEET OF BANARAS
HINDU UNIVERSITY FOR THE YEAR ENDING
31-3-1961

| (1) The Permanent Reserve Fund shown at Rs. 51,14,339.71 includes Rs. 2,22,857.13 as capitalised value of an Annuity which no longer exists, the entire capitalised value having already been paid by the grantee long ago. The fund thus falls short of the requirement (Rs. 50 lakhs) of the University Act. The amount of capitalised value of this Annuity which was granted for general purpose and included in the Permanent Reserve Fund, could have been invested as part of the fund and the income, therefrom credited to General Fund Revenue. The University in reply to the comments on Balance Sheet for 1956-57 reported that the question was being considered by the University. The matter could not be decided by the University even after the lapse of so many years although it is being commented upon every year in the Balance Sheet. | The position continues to be the same and the matter is still under correspondence with the U.G.C. |
| (2) Land and Buildings have been shown at Rs. 2,38,09,518.86. The valuation represents the original cost of acquisition of land and construction of building plus the amounts spent from time to time on this account including buildings held as 'Endowments'. The valuation of different buildings works upto Rs. 2,33,74,099.15 only. The difference is required to be reconciled. | There were no records in this behalf in the beginning. The difference could not be reconciled so far as most of the old records are not readily available now. |
| (3) A sum of Rs. 35,09,544.34 has been shown as Sundry Debts recoverable. The amount represents the expenditure incurred for various purposes in excess of the donations and Govt. Grants received. The major portion relates to Govt. grants and the University expects to recover the amount inspite of the fact that in respect of some items there is no commitment in this behalf from the sanctioning authorities. Some items amounting to Rs. 4,47,391.03 are being shown for several years without effecting any recovery so far. As regards excess expenditure over the amount of donations University should have decided the arrangements for funds before incurring expenditure i.e. the expenditure of Rs. 3,52,583.20 and Rs. 10,900.38 on improvement and repairs to special fund quarter should have been met from the income from the special fund investment. | Most of the items pertain to Govt. Grants which have since been received and cleared. Some of the items are really irrecoverable and need adjustment. We shall carry out adjustment of all fictitious assets and liabilities as soon as the revised form of Balance Sheet is finalised. |
| (4) Donations for special objects have been valued at Rs. 2,54,22,959.98. The special object is not recorded against a number of donations. | Noted for compliance. |

(5) An amount of Rs. 35,03,461.02 appears under the head 'Liability for unspent obligations other special funds'. A large number of entries under this head represent small and old balances which have been continuing for a number of years. Suitable adjustments will be carried out as soon as the revised form of B'S is finalised.

(6) Deposits and Retentions valued at Rs. 14,62,855.47 in the Balance Sheet still contains some old items included under 'other Deposits' for which details or yearwise analysis are not available. Noted for compliance.

AWARD

The Ministry of Labour & Employment, Government of India, by its Order No. 2/68/60-LRII, dated the 15th June, 1961, made under clause (d) of sub-section (1) of Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), referred on 16th June 1961, the following industrial dispute to this Tribunal for its adjudication:—

“Whether the dismissal of Shri Jagdish Singh, an underground Munshi, by the management of Digwadih Colliery was justified and if not, to what relief is he entitled?”

2. The admitted facts, giving rise to the present dispute, may be summarised thus:

The industrial dispute, between the management of the Digwadih Colliery and four of its workmen, namely, Jagdish Singh, who is concerned in the present dispute, and C. L. Sharma, R. N. Dubey, and Burhan Ahmad, and were also underground munshis in the colliery of the management who were all dismissed, was referred on 23rd July 1959 by the General Secretary, Colliery Mazdoor Sangh, Dhanbad, to the Conciliation Officer for settlement and their reinstatement. On 1st January 1960 the Secretary of the Union further submitted his comments on the dismissals of these four workmen to the Conciliation Officer—Exhibit W. 1. The Conciliation Officer on 11th March 1960, however, submitted his failure of conciliation report, Exhibit W. 2. On 18th April 1959 a charge sheet, Exhibit M. 1, of that date was served on Jagdish Singh, the workman, and, he was asked to show cause why action should not be taken against him for his misconduct under Standing Orders, (Exhibit W. 11), Nos. 19(2) and 19(1). The first charge against him was for “dishonesty for booking enhanced pushing and lead rates”, in two bills, Exhibits M. 36 and M. 37, dated 23rd March 1959, for the week ending 21st March 1959, which are proved on comparing these rates with the rates—Exhibit M. 31—supplied by the Assistant Manager on 23rd March 1959 to him, which was a misconduct punishable under company's Standing Order No. 19(2). The second charge was for “disobeying the instruction of the Manager which is a misconduct under company's Standing Order 19(1)”. It may be stated, however, at this very stage, that the charge for the misconduct under Standing Order 19(1) was not pressed at the enquiry and has not been pressed also before the Tribunal.

Jagdish Singh, the workman, on 22nd April 1959 submitted his reply to the charge sheet, Exhibit M. 2, denying the charges. A departmental enquiry, thereafter, was held on 24th April 1959 by Shri G. Prasad, who recorded the evidence of Shri B. S. Rao, Exhibit W. 1; the Manager; Jagdish Singh, the workman, Shri R. K. Ghosh, the Assistant Manager; C. L. Sharma and R. N. Dubey, the other two dismissed workmen. The statement of Jagdish Singh before the Enquiring Officer is Exhibits M. 4 to M. 18; the statement of Shri B. S. Rao, the Manager, Exhibit W. 1 is Exhibit M. 23 to Exhibit 29, and, the statement of Shri R. K. Ghosh, the Assistant Manager, is Exhibits M. 12 to M. 14 and M. 32 to M. 35. The Enquiring Officer, Shri G. Prasad, thereafter, on 27th April 1959 submitted his report, Exhibit M. 38, in which he found that "The charge of enhanced bill for lead and pushing are proved," and as he found all the four munshis, above named, "guilty of the charge brought against them", he recommended that "severe action may be taken against them". As a result of the enquiry report, Exhibit M. 38, the Chief Mining Engineer on 2nd May 1959 sent a letter, Exhibit M. 19, equal to Exhibit W also for the workman, to Jagdish Singh dismissing him from the company's service with effect from 21st April 1959.

2. The Ministry of Labour & Employment, Government of India, on 1st April 1960, sent a letter, Exhibit M. 20, to the Secretary, Colliery Mazdoor Sangh, representing the aforesaid four workmen, including Jagdish Singh, the present workman, informing that, "the Government of India do not consider the dispute fit for reference to an Industrial Tribunal for adjudication because the workmen concerned were dismissed for misconduct after following the prescribed procedure". Thereafter, on 18th June 1960 the Secretary, Colliery Mazdoor Sangh, sent a letter, Exhibit M. 22, to the Trustees of the Provident Fund of the Company, saying that as Jagdish Singh had served the company for a pretty long time with credit before being dismissed for misconduct of which, according to the opinion of the Union, he was not personally guilty, the rule of forfeiture may be waived in his favour and Jagdish Singh may be allowed to get the full benefit of the Company's contributions towards his provident fund.

3. Subsequently, however, the case of only Jagdish Singh, the present workman, out of the four dismissed workmen, was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal on 16th June 1961, as stated earlier.

4. In response, to the notice issued by the Tribunal, after receipt of the reference, the Union on behalf of the workman, Jagdish Singh, filed his written statement on 24th July 1961. His main defence therein was that in his shift he and C. L. Sharma were working together till the material date, that is, the week ending the 21st March 1959, because, as a matter of practice, two Munshis worked together in a shift, and the private arrangement between them was that he (Jagdish Singh) was mainly in charge of checking work of the trammers, raising and good loads, whereas, C. L. Sharma used to prepare the rough bills for pushing lead and lift, and, according to the said practice, the disputed Bills, M. 36 and M. 37, were also prepared by C. L. Sharma, and, he (Sharma) booked the entries for lead and push in the remarks column of the disputed bills, and he (Jagdish Singh) had nothing to do with these entries; that as one A. K. Bose, a munshi of another shift, got injured in an accident, C. L. Sharma, who was working with him (Jagdish Singh), was deputed in place of A. K. Bose in a different shift from the week ending from 23rd March 1959; that, as rough bills, like Exhibits M. 36 and M. 37, had to be signed by a Munshi of the shift to which such bills related, and, as C. L. Sharma, the writer of these two disputed bills, Exhibits M. 36 and M. 37, was not there, he, (Jagdish Singh), was asked just to put his signatures on the disputed rough bills, M. 36 and M. 37, and, therefore, he put his signatures thereon, which, on his admission, were marked Exhibits W. 3 and W. 4; and, that the action taken by the management against him in dismissing him was due to his active participation in the Union affairs. In short, therefore, the workman, Jagdish Singh, denied that the disputed writings about lead and push entries in the remarks column in the disputed bills, M. 36 and M. 37, were in his handwriting, and, asserted that they were in the handwriting of C. L. Sharma, who prepared these two disputed bills, Exhibits M. 36 and M. 37.

5. The management also submitted its written statement on 12th September 1961, in which in para 4 it was said:

"That on 23rd March 1959 Jagdish Singh submitted a report to the Assistant Manager (i.e. R. K. Ghosh) showing the gangs of miners and the number of tubs loaded by them during the week ending 21st March 1959. After getting the signature of the Assistant Manager, Shri Jagdish Singh inserted the pushing and lead figures against each group of miners and submitted it (i.e. Exhibits M. 36 and M. 37) direct to the billing section. The Assistant Manager had given to the aforesaid workman the pushing and lead report of 23rd March 1959 (i.e. Exhibit M. 31) showing pushing and lead to be paid for each face that was being worked during the week ending 21st March 1959 in Jorapukur Seam."

In para 5 it was further said:

"That on comparison with the pushing and lead report given by the Assistant Manager (i.e. Exhibit 31) with that given by Jagdish Singh (i.e. Exhibits M. 36 and M. 37) to the bill section it was found that in some cases he had booked enhanced pushing and lead reports."

It was, therefore, stated by the management that on the above facts the workman was charge sheeted for dishonesty and after proper enquiry, which was held in his presence and at which he was given full chance and opportunity to defend himself, he was found guilty, and, as his misconduct was proved he was dismissed from 21st May 1959.

It was further stated in para 14:

"That in the past also Shri Jagdish Singh was either warned or suspended for misconducts", and, in support of this allegation extracts from the service record of Jagdish Singh, Exhibit M. 21, was filed by the management. It was, further, said that the Union also appears to have been convinced of the guilt of the workman, Jagdish Singh, and, therefore, it did not challenge seriously his dismissal, but only requested the management to waive the rule of forfeiture regarding his provident fund, referring to Exhibit M. 22.

6. Before this Tribunal, the management produced the original records of the enquiry, which are Exhibits M. 1 to M. 38 and also filed previous rough bills, at the instance of the workman, for the week ending 14th March 1959, Exhibits W. 7 to W. 10. Both the parties adduced oral evidence, in support of their respective cases. On behalf of the management, its Manager, Shri B. S. Rao was examined as Exhibit W. 1 and, on behalf of the workmen, Jagdish Singh examined himself as W.W. 1.

7. On the above materials, it was argued by Shri Sen Gupta, Advocate, on behalf of the workman, that the management has been guilty of basic error of fact, and, of violation of the principles of natural justice, and, further, that, on the materials before the Enquiring Officer, his finding is perverse and there is also an element of victimisation and, as such, it was urged the domestic enquiry was invalid.

8. In reply, it was contended by Shri Mukherjea, Advocate, on behalf of the management, that there had been no denial (1) that munshis prepare rough bills, (2) that rates of lead and push are entered by munshis, (3) that the lead and push rates entered in the impugned bills Exhibits M. 36 and M. 37, are at enhanced rates, and, (4) that there was a departmental enquiry, at which reasonable opportunity was given to the workman, and the misconduct of the workman was proved, and, therefore, it was urged that the enquiry by the management cannot be called invalid.

It was further submitted that the only defence of the workman, in short, was that the disputed writings regarding the entries of lead and push in the two disputed rough bills, Exhibits M. 36 and M. 37, were not in his handwriting, but were in the handwriting of C. L. Sharma, and, that C. L. Sharma, who was in charge of preparation of rough bills, prepared these two rough bills also, Exhibits M. 36 and M. 37 and got them signed by the Assistant Manager, and, thereafter, he (C. L. Sharma) booked the entries regarding the Lead and Push on the report, Exhibit M. 31, supplied by the Assistant Manager according to the practice prevalent in the company. It was, therefore, contended that, on the above admitted facts, the dismissal of the workman cannot be challenged as unfair or not justified.

9. The Supreme Court has laid down in a number of cases the principles which should guide a Tribunal and the grounds on which the Tribunal, in cases of dismissal for misconduct, can interfere.

In the Indian Iron and Steel Co. Ltd. Vs. Their workmen, 1958. I.L.L.J. 260, His Lordship S. K. Das, J., at page 270, observed:

"In cases of dismissal on misconduct the tribunal does not, however, act as a court of appeal and substitute its own judgment for that of the management. It will interfere—

- (i) when there is a want of good faith,
- (ii) when there is victimisation or unfair labour practice,
- (iii) when the management has been guilty of a basic error or violation of a principle of natural justice, and
- (iv) when on the materials, the finding is completely baseless or perverse."

The above case was followed by His Lordship Gajendragadkar, J. in Doom Duma Tea Co., Limited, Vs. Assam Chah Karmachari Sangh, 1960—II. L.L.J. 59, mentioning the above four only classes of cases in which the Tribunal can interfere. The same principles were re-stated by His Lordship Gajendragadkar, J., subsequently also, in Pure Drinks (P) Ltd. Vs. Kirat Singh Maungatt, 1961—II, L.L.J. 99, at p. 101.

10. In the light of the principles laid down in the just mentioned cases of the Supreme Court, which were relied upon by the workman, let us now examine the arguments presented, on behalf of the workman, by Shri Sen Gupta.

11. Before I deal with the objections raised against the domestic enquiry, I may, at first, clear the way by disposing of the argument of Shri Mukherjee, on behalf of the management, that the fact (i) that the Central Government at an earlier stage refused to refer the case of Jagdish Singh for adjudication to this Tribunal, as mentioned in its letter Exhibit M. 20; and, (ii) that the Secretary of the Union, although in its letter, Exhibit M. 22, said that the workman Jagdish Singh was not personally guilty, was satisfied that his dismissal was proper, and, therefore, asked only for waiving the rule of forfeiture in respect of the company's contribution of Provident Fund to him. In my opinion, this argument has no merit. Because the above two facts will not debar the Union from advocating the case of Jagdish Singh, and showing before this Tribunal that the dismissal of Jagdish Singh was unjustified. Now when the reference has been made by the Central Government to this Tribunal, it is entitled to go into the merits of the dismissal of the workman and give a decision on the materials before it. The above objection, therefore, is over-ruled.

12. Coming to the merits, I will now take up the objections, raised by Shri Sen Gupta, on behalf of the workman, one by one.

13. As regards the first objection that the management has been guilty of violation of principles of natural justice, I may here mention first the ground on which this argument has been advanced. Shri Sen Gupta's contention was that Shri R. K. Ghosh, the Assistant Manager, and, Jagdish Singh, the workman concerned, were being examined side by side, simultaneously as if it were, as will appear from the examination of Jagdish Singh before the Enquiring Officer, Exhibits M. 12 to M. 14, and, thereafter, as will appear from M. 16 to M. 18 R. K. Ghosh also put questions to the workman.

Relying on the above statements of R. K. Ghosh and Jagdish Singh being recorded side by side, simultaneously, it was contended, by Shri Sen Gupta, that it was impossible to find out from the above statement as to what questions were put and what answers were given and to what questions, and, whether questions were confusing or leading, and, therefore, he submitted that such a procedure, which was unknown, was a clear violation of the principles of natural justice. I find from the statements Exhibits M. 6 to M. 18 that the workman Jagdish Singh; R. K. Ghosh, the Assistant Manager; and B. S. Rao, Manager; were all examined by the Enquiring Officer, side by side, because the workman was putting questions to R. K. Ghosh and B. S. Rao and they were replying. The questions put by Jagdish Singh to R. K. Ghosh or B. S. Rao are not recorded and therefore it is not possible to say what was the nature of questions put by Jagdish Singh. Likewise, the questions put by R. K. Ghosh or B. S. Rao to Jagdish Singh are not recorded, and, therefore, it cannot be said what was the nature or form of questions put by them to Jagdish Singh.

It will further appear from Exhibit M. 28 that Dubey, the other dismissed workman, was also being examined along with Jagdish Singh and B. S. Rao. It, therefore, appears that at the enquiry the manager, B. S. Rao; the Assistant Manager, R. K. Ghosh; Jagdish Singh, the workman concerned; and C. L. Sharma and Dubey, the other two dismissed workmen, were all being examined together side by side, as a joint enquiry was held by Shri G. Prasad.

14. The question is, what is the effect of such an enquiry? Does it violate the principles of natural justice as contended by Shri Sen Gupta? In answering these questions, it will have to be borne in mind that it was a domestic enquiry by the company itself by its own officer, and, therefore, strict legal procedure would not apply. Even then, to me it appears that in an enquiry, in such a fashion, it is simply impossible to say that the workman, who has been charge sheeted, has been given reasonable opportunity to defend himself properly, because unless he knows what statement has been made against him and by which witness, he cannot properly cross-examine him. If the statement of the workman is also that of an important witness like the Assistant Manager R. K. Ghosh, who was vitally interested in the charge sheet being proved against the workman, because the disputed bills, Exhibits M. 36 and M. 37, bore his signatures, Exhibits W. 3, W. 5 and W. 6, are read side by side, I do not think such an enquiry can be said to be a proper enquiry or fair enquiry at all.

I would, therefore, hold that on the facts of the present case, and on the nature of the enquiry indicated above, the management has been guilty of violation of principles of natural justice and that the enquiry was not fair and proper.

15. The second objection of Shri Sen Gupta, however, is more serious, as if established, it goes to the root of the case. The enquiry proceeded on the basis that the disputed rates of push and lead were entered by Jagdish Singh in Exhibit M. 36 and M. 37, and that they were in his handwriting; but no enquiry was made at all as to who wrote the disputed rates in Exhibits M. 36 and M. 37, which was the real dispute between the management and the workman, Jagdish Singh.

Shri Mukherjee, appearing for the management, admitted, as mentioned before, that the only defence of Jagdish Singh was that the disputed entries in Exhibits M. 36 and M. 37 were not in his handwriting, but in the handwriting of C. L. Sharma. No enquiry was directed into this basic fact, which was the only dispute between the parties. The enquiring officer did not at all direct his attention and enquiry into this question, which was the question and the only question to be investigated. The enquiry was directed into the question as to whether there were discrepancies in the push and lead rates mentioned in Exhibits M. 36 and M. 37 and the rates Exhibits M. 31 supplied by the Assistant Manager, which fact was not denied by the workman at all.

From the statements of Jagdish Singh before the Enquiring Officer Exhibits M. 6—M. 18, it will appear that whenever any particular item of discrepancy between M. 31 and M. 36 and M. 37 was put to him, he in clear terms said that he had not billed against any gang at the disputed rates in Exhibits M. 36 and M. 37 and that he had not given the said bill to the billing section. It is true, that in his written reply, Exhibits M. 2 and M. 3 before the Enquiring Officer, he did not mention the name of C. L. Sharma nor did he say that it was C. L. Sharma, who booked the entries in dispute in M. 36 and M. 37; but, that, in my opinion, cannot prejudice him; Jagdish Singh, C. L. Sharma, and two others were charge sheeted together and their charge sheets were being enquired into together, as will appear also from the Enquiring Officer's report, Exhibit M. 38, and, as admitted by the Manager, Shri B. S. Rao, in his statement before the Enquiring Officer, M. 24, that: "The reply to the charge sheets were received and three of the replies, that is, that of Messrs. Sharma, J. Singh and Dubey were the same", and, therefore, as the same reply was given and all the workmen were defended together and as C. L. Sharma was also standing enquiry along with Jagdish Singh, it cannot be expected that Jagdish Singh could mention the name of C. L. Sharma. In my opinion, therefore, the fact that the name of C. L. Sharma has not been mentioned in his reply Exhibits M. 2 and M. 3 is of no consequence.

It will appear from the statement of R. K. Ghosh (Exhibit M. 32), (who has not been examined before the Tribunal on the ground that he left the company's service about a year ago), that, in reply to his question to C. L. Sharma, as to whether it was a fact that the lead and push figures were recorded in the Coal Bill Advice after he has signed the papers or before it, "Shri Sharma replied that he (i.e. Sharma) writes them before the A.M. (i.e. the Asst. Manager) signs it. This happens in his case." The defence of Jagdish Singh, therefore, was accepted, before the Enquiring Officer, that it is C. L. Sharma who writes rough bills. It is plain, therefore, that if the real question for enquiry, as to whether the disputed entries in M. 36 and M. 37 were in the hand-writing of C. L. Sharma or of Jagdish Singh, had been enquired into, it would have been proved on the admission of

C. L. Sharma himself, as quoted in extenso above, that it was C. L. Sharma who recorded the disputed rates regarding push and lead in the remarks column of the disputed bills, Exhibits M. 36 and M. 37. The basic fact of dispute was not enquired into.

Then again, the previous bills Exhibits W. 7 to W. 10 were also before Enquiring Officer, as admitted by Shri Mukherjee, and before this Tribunal Shri Mukherjee admitted that Exhibits W. 9 and W. 10 were in the pen of C. L. Sharma, and, that the entries regarding push and lead rates were also entered by him under the remarks column in those bills Exhibits W. 9 and W. 10, which are for the week ending 14th March, 1959. It was, therefore, essential that the admitted writings of Sharma on Exhibits W. 9 and W. 10 should have been compared with his disputed writings in Exhibits M. 36 and M. 37, although they were also admitted by C. L. Sharma himself to be his writings, as will appear from Exhibits M. 32. But this obvious thing was not done, obviously because the Enquiring Officer committed a basic error of fact regarding the real dispute between the parties. In my opinion, therefore, the management, on the facts stated above, has been guilty of a basic error of fact, and, when the enquiry was not at all directed to find out the truth or otherwise of the real dispute, it cannot be held to be valid and fair and such an enquiry is vitiated and is of no legal effect.

16. As regards the third objection that the finding of the Enquiring Officer was perverse, it is really so. It would appear from the standing orders, Exhibit W. 11, that Standing Order No. 19 (2), the charge under which alone was pressed against the workman, Jagdish Singh, was that he had committed "dishonesty which is a misconduct under Standing Order No. 19 (2)." The enquiry report, M. 38, which was in respect of all the four munshis, was that: "The charge of enhanced bill for lead and push are proved." But that finding does not show that dishonesty of Jagdish Singh was proved, and, on the evidence and facts of the case, the dishonesty of the workman could not either be inferred at all, for the simple reason that C. L. Sharma admitted, as will appear from Exhibits M. 32, that it was his duty to record the lead and push figures in the rough bills. The practice followed before was that the rough bills were prepared by C. L. Sharma and, thereafter, they were signed by Assistant Manager, and, then the bills used to be sent to C. L. Sharma, and, he used to be given the lead and push rate by the Assistant Manager and on the basis of the same, C. L. Sharma used to enter these rates in the remarks column of the rough bills and then sent to the bill section. This procedure, alleged by the workman, was admitted in his evidence before the Tribunal by E. W. 1 Shri B. S. Rao, Manager, who stated:

"The overman and the Asstt. Manager used to measure the distances and put it on pen duplicate that is for the purpose of lead and push. These were given to the munshis after the munshis have got the signature of the Asstt. Manager in the rough bills prepared by them. After the signature of the Asstt. Manager munshis had to submit the bill to the bill section after the insertion of lead and push rate."

He, further, admitted, in his cross-examination, that his previous statement before the Enquiring Officer, that: "I cannot say whether the Assistant Manager, signed before or after the rates were given" was correct at that time; but subsequently he learnt from talk among themselves that that was not the practice. The Manager, E. W. 1, further, admitted before the Enquiring Officer, Exhibits M. 27 and M. 28, that:

"I called the munshis and asked them personally regarding the procedure adopted on 10th April and they admitted that they entered the L and P rates against each gang of miners after the A.M. had signed the bill advice. However on receipt of this information, I instructed the A.M. to further regularise this procedure in order to avoid any further loopholes. This has been done."

The procedure alleged by the defence, therefore, was proved not only by the previous bills Exhibits W. 9 and W. 10 and by the admission of C. L. Sharma, Exhibit M. 32, but also by the evidence of the Manager, E. W. 1, and, on this evidence, if that was the position, there is no doubt that the finding of the Enquiring Officer is baseless and perverse, because there is no material to support it.

Furthermore, there being no finding of "dishonesty" the dishonesty or dishonest intention of Jagdish Singh cannot be inferred from the evidence and circumstances stated above.

For the reasons given above, the finding of the Enquiring Officer must be held, in my opinion, wholly baseless and perverse.

17. As regards the fourth, and the last objection that the management was guilty of victimisation, I think there is force in the contention of Shri Sen Gupta that the punishment itself proves victimisation on the part of the management, because, at the worst, even on the finding of the Enquiring Officer, a case of negligence was made out, and not of dishonesty, and, for that very reason the enquiring officer did not recommend dismissal, but the management dismissed him. It was conceded by Shri Mukherjee, on behalf of the management, that Jagdish Singh was never charge sheeted for dishonesty before nor ever charge sheeted for any misconduct at all. The extracts from the service book of Jagdish Singh, Exhibit M. 21, the correctness of which however are not admitted by the workman, only shows that Jagdish Singh was suspended for 4 days in 1947; warned in 1953; warned again in 1954 and suspended for 3 days again for negligence of duty in 1954. The records of these charge sheets or the charge sheets themselves mentioned in Exhibit M. 21 were not produced before the Enquiring Officer nor before the Tribunal. In these circumstances, the above entries in the alleged service record of Jagdish Singh, Exhibit M. 21, when the correctness of the extracts are not admitted by the workman, are of no consequence. I have taken into consideration the allegation of the workman that he was victimised due to his Union activities, which fact, however, was not admitted by the management. Apart from that, on the materials here, the punishment of dismissal inflicted was excessive, unjustified and unduly severe.

I, therefore, hold that the management was guilty of victimisation.

18. For the reasons given above, I hold that the enquiry was invalid, and, as such, the dismissal of the workman cannot be sustained. I, accordingly, set aside the dismissal of Jagdish Singh, and direct his reinstatement with full back wages.

19. The workman, Jagdish Singh, should be reinstated within two weeks from the date this award becomes enforceable under Section 17A of the Act.

20. In the circumstances of the case, I direct that each party will bear its own cost.

21. This is the award, which I make and submit, as required by Section 15 of the Act.

New Delhi, the 18th October 1962

S.O. 3255.—In pursuance of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (14 of 1947), the Central Government hereby publishes the following award of the Industrial Tribunal, Bombay, in the industrial dispute between the employers in relation to the New Chirimiri Ponri Hill Colliery of Messrs. AWARD

The Central Government by the Ministry of Labour and Employment's Order No. 1/24/62-LR.II, dated 3rd August 1962, made in exercise of the powers conferred by clause (d) of sub-section (1) of section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (Act XIV of 1947), was pleased to refer the industrial dispute between the parties above-named in respect of the subject matters specified in the following schedule to the said order to me for adjudication.

SCHEDULE

"(i) Whether the action of the management of New Chirimiri Ponri Hill Colliery of M/s. Dadabhoy's New Chirimiri Ponri Hill Company

Private Ltd., Nagpur by compelling their workmen to proceed on leave with or without wages, amounts to locking out such workers or laying them off?

(ii) If so, what relief the workers are entitled to?"

2. After the reference was made, Shri Gulab Gupta the General Secretary of the Madhya Pradesh Colliery Workers' Federation (hereinafter referred to as the Union) filed the written statement of claim dated 16th August 1962 on behalf of the workmen, to which the Secretary of the Dadabhoys New Chirimiri Ponri Hill Colliery Company Private Ltd., (hereinafter referred to as the Company), filed its written statement in reply on 22nd August 1962, after which this dispute was heard at Nagpur on the 28th and 29th August 1962.

3. It is necessary in order to appreciate the contentions of the parties, to give a brief account of the events leading up to the dispute.

4. The New Chirimiri Ponri Hill Colliery (hereinafter referred to as the Colliery), belonging to the Company, is situated in Chirimiri, District Surguja, in Madhya Pradesh. Its production of coal is about 25,000 tons per month and it employs in all about 1,500 workmen of whom till 30th June 1962 about 714 workers were engaged through raising contractors, Messrs. B. B. Lahiri & Son (Ponri Hill) Private Ltd., (hereinafter referred to as the Raising Contractors). Of these 714 workers, there were 223 coal cutters; 402 loaders; 24 drill crew; 56 clerical munshis, etc., and 10 surface miscellaneous (see exhibit W-5, Company's letter dated 2nd July 1962).

5. It is relevant and necessary here to state that the Central Government by Notification No. 1/33/60-LRII, dated 31st October 1960 issued under the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, had constituted a 'Court of Inquiry' with Shri L. P. Dave as its Sole Member, and referred to it an industrial dispute which was then existing between the employers, in relation to the coal mining industry and their workmen. The modified terms of reference to the Court of Inquiry were:—

- "1. Whether the system of employment of labour through or by contractors and sub-contractors in the coal mining industry in the country can be abolished without impairing productivity, and, if so, in which case of employment and within what period.
2. To the extent that contract system cannot be abolished in the industry, what measures, statutory or otherwise, should be devised to ensure fair wages and conditions of employment to labour employed through or by contractors and sub-contractors."

It is admitted that this company was a party to this dispute in which it was represented by the Indian Mining Association. Before the Court of Inquiry, the representatives of the employers of the Coal Mining Industry and of the workmen filed terms of settlement dated 30th October 1961 reached between them by which they agreed to abolish, not later than by 30th September 1962, the contract system wherever it existed in the coal mining industry—except for 7 specified categories of work. The relevant paragraph of that agreement—being paragraphs Nos. 2 and 3—are in the following terms:—

Para 2: It is further agreed that all processes directly connected with the raising and despatch of coal and manufacture and despatch of coke shall be the direct responsibility of the principal employer and all workers engaged therein shall be the employees of the principal employer, except in the following categories:

- (i) Sinking of pit and driving of Incline,
- (ii) Sand Loading,
- (iii) Dyke cutting and driving of stone drifts and miscellaneous stone work underground,
- (iv) Coal loading and unloading, provided that the Principal Employers shall engage a nucleus of wagon and truck loaders to whom regular work can be guaranteed; the number of such nucleus to be reviewed quarterly,
- (v) Miscellaneous civil engineering works of an irregular and intermittent nature,
- (vi) Overburden removal and earth cutting,
- (vii) Soft coke manufacturing.

(Proviso not being relevant is omitted.)

Para 3: That all work, except in the aforesaid categories of work, shall be taken over and carried on departmentally by the principal employer as early as possible but not later than 30th September 1962, and that all workers employed by or through the contractors should be employed by the principal employer, if the particular work is to be continued. The terms and conditions of service of such workers shall be settled mutually by the union and the employer at the colliery level."

[See Government of India Gazette, Part II, Section 3(ii), dated 16th December 1961, pp. 3181 to 3189 at pp. 3188 to 3189.]

6. Now, pursuant to this agreement, to which it is admitted this Company was a party, the company by a letter dated 26th May 1962 (Ex. A/4) addressed to the Raising Contractors, terminated the Raising Contract with effect from 30th June 1962. In this notice it was clearly stated that the raising contract was being terminated because, the Court of Inquiry presided over by Shri L. P. Dave, had recommended the termination of the system of contract labour in the coal mining industry not later than 30th September 1962. The notice further stated that after 30th June 1962, the company would carry out the work departmentally and that the company would offer fresh employment to the employees of the contractor, "subject to their suitability and requirements of the colliery". The notice further stated that the Raising Contractors would be responsible for payment of wages, salary, compensation, etc., to their employees in respect of their employment with them.

7. On 28th May 1962, Shri Gulab Gupta, the Vice-President of the Federation addressed a letter to the Company (Ex. W. 1) in which, after referring to and reproducing paragraph 3 of the agreement dated 30th October 1961 before the Court of Inquiry, which has been extracted above, he went on to state that the agreement of 30th June 1961, made it obligatory on the employer to take over the contract system by 30th September 1962; that the said agreement makes it obligatory on the employer to employ all workmen if that work is to be continued in the colliery; and that any unilateral action on the part of the employer would cause serious repercussions. In conclusion he called upon the management to let him know when it proposed to take over the work from their contractor and when they proposed to discuss the same with the union.

8. On 31st May 1962 the raising contractors by a notice informed everyone concerned that their contract had been terminated by the company's notice dated 26th May 1962 with effect from 30th June 1962 and that accordingly they ceased to be contractors from 1st July 1962 and further informed the workmen that, "all your questions should, therefore, be taken up directly with the company, the employers and not with us or through us".

9. On 5th June 1962 the Secretary of the company wrote in reply to the union's letter of 28th May 1962 confirming that the company had served notice terminating the raising contract and requested that the union should not disturb the colliery working. He went on to observe:—

"After the contract is terminated and the departmental working is started, if there is any difference of opinion between the company and the Union on certain minor points, we would look into them and try to settle mutually. (Ex. A-5)."

10. However, on 8th June 1962 the Manager of the Colliery inserted an advertisement in the newspapers (Ex. W. 3) inviting applications for various categories of workmen to be engaged as fresh recruits. The advertisement stated that the contract of coal raising would come to an end on 30th June 1962 and from 2nd July 1962 (the 1st of July being a Sunday) coal raising work in the colliery would be carried out departmentally. The advertisement stated that intending candidates having experience would be given preference and that persons who had worked with B. B. Lahiri & Sons (Private) Ltd., raising contractors would be offered employment on fresh contracts of service with the individuals concerned, "if they apply for appointment, subject to their suitability and requirements of the colliery". The advertisement further went on to point out that the colliery would not be responsible for wages, retrenchment compensation, etc., prior to or upto the termination of the raising contract, whether or not any of them are re-employed. The advertisement also stated that the applications should be addressed to and reach the Manager of the Colliery latest by 26th June 1962.

11. The union and the workmen took strong exception to this, and it appears that slogans were shouted at the colliery demanding that all the workers employed by the contractors should be taken as direct employees by the company with continuity of service on the termination of the raising contract. Thereupon, on 27th June 1962 the Manager of the Colliery put up a statement headed "Appeal and Advice" (Ex. A/6) in which, he observed:—

"The agreement in the Court of Enquiry report of Shri Dave only wants the contractors works barring seven exempted items to be taken over by the main employer and the contractor's employees should be employed by the principal employer."

He further went on to point out that in the Court of Enquiry Report nothing was mentioned as regards continuity of service, retrenchment compensation or allied matters. He went on to observe that contractor's employees could and should certainly be dealt with only through the contractor and they have no connection at all with the colliery company under the Industrial Disputes Act, but offered that:—

"The permanent contractor's employees as regards coat cutters, loaders and drill crew will all be re-employed by the Company."

He, however, went on to point out that clerical-cum-munshi strength with the contractor was superfluous. Even so, the company was prepared to employ 50 per cent of the clerical-cum-munshi staff of the contractor and the management proposed to select them along with the union, basing the selection on qualification, experience and efficiency and allied matters. He further stated that the management would not reduce the wages of the contractor's workers and that this offer had been conveyed to the Federation but it had not yet availed itself of the offer. In this "Appeal and Advice", evidently referring to the demand for continuity of service, the Manager observed as follows:—

"If a workman happens to work in an industry for some time under a separate employer like a contractor and later under the main employer directly, continuous nature of service stands incidentally safeguarded by section 2(eee) and section 25B of the Industrial Disputes Act. It cannot be had for the asking of one nor denied by the refusal of the other. For each of the persons who are going to be reemployed there cannot be any material loss and we do not then understand the significance of the present agitation. Even if there is some redress needed there is a constitutional platform or machinery to seek the same other than crying in the street which in no way affects us but might only injure the cordiality that was prevailing between us. It is unfortunate there is not found in the scene an able and intelligent leader to guide the men."

In conclusion, he offered to meet the committee members to discuss the situation.

12. It appears that there was a settlement reached between the management and the union dated 9th January 1961 during conciliation proceedings of an earlier dispute, under which it was agreed that all future industrial disputes would be settled by mutual negotiations and arbitration.

13. On 29th June 1962 the Colliery Manager addressed yet another letter to the union (exhibit E-7—W-4) in which he warned that if a strike was resorted to it would be illegal under section 23(c) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 as it would be in violation of the settlement of 9th January 1961. He went on to observe that the company would be justified in laying off the workmen for whom they would not be able to find alternative employment and that such lay off would be under section 25E (iii) and no lay-off compensation would be payable for it. I may here state that section 25E(iii) provides that no compensation shall be paid to the workmen who had been laid off, if such laying off is due to a strike or slowing down of production on the part of the workmen in another part of the establishment. The Manager then went on to state that such an illegal strike would be misconduct under standing order 27, clauses 1, 7, and 9, and that a lock-out declared as a sequel to an illegal strike would be legal. He again referred to the issue of continuity of service by observing that section 2(eee) of the Industrial Disputes Act defined continuity of service and it is irrespective of a change in employer and that as long as a workman in an industry has secured one year's service and 240 days' attendance he has continuous service in the industry, "the benefit of which he is legally bound to get."

14. On 2nd July 1962 the Manager of the Colliery put up another notice (exhibit W-5) stating that in spite of his advice and appeal dated 27th June 1962 (exhibit A-6), the contractor's workmen had stopped work from 7 A.M. on 2nd July 1962. He stated that the strike was illegal as being in violation of the terms of the agreement dated 9th January 1961 which was still in force. He further went on to state that the workmen had made themselves liable to be laid off without compensation and that even a lock-out could be declared which would be legal under the provisions of section 24(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act. He sent copies of this letter to various offices including the railway authorities whom he requested the railway authorities to stop supply of wagons.

15. On 3rd July 1962 the Colliery Manager addressed yet another letter to the General Secretary of the Union (exhibit W-6—W-17) in which he acknowledged receipt of the union's letter of 2nd July 1962. Evidently, the union in its letter had taken up the stand that there could not be a strike on the part of the contractor's workmen as they had no relationship of employer and employee between the company and the contractor's men on 1st July 1962. In its reply dated 3rd July 1962 the Manager of the Colliery took up the stand that the workman of a different employer having no connection with the principal employer can also strike. He also argued that the strike was illegal as the agreement of 9th January 1961 was still in force. It appears that thereafter Shri Gulab Gupta met the Manager of the Colliery on 3rd July 1962 who at his instance sent a telegram to the head office (exhibit W-27) in which he stated that the union desired 'hat the status quo prevailing on thirtieth ultimo should be continued pending discussion on terms and conditions of their service, and Shri Gupta had suggested 1st August 1962 for a discussion and that if the company agreed a settlement could be reached on those lines and production resumed immediately.

16. However, on 4th July 1962 the company by a notice (exhibit W-7) laid off 86 workmen on the ground that there was a strike from 2nd July 1962 of all ex-employees of the contract and production had been paralysed and that there was no available work for these workmen because of the strike; that the shunting mazdoors and shale-pickers had refused alternative work of loading slack accumulation in wagons and that the lay-off was being effected under the provisions of section 25E(iii) of the Industrial Disputes Act, and that the workmen would be taken back on work whenever the strike is withdrawn and the normal work resumed. The 86 workmen laid off were 3 head shunting mazdoors, 71 shunting mazdoors and 12 shale pickers. The Manager of the Colliery forwarded this notice to the Regional Labour Commissioner (Central) Jabalpur by his covering letter dated 6th July 1962 (exhibit W-9) in which he stated that such of the workmen concerned as are entitled to compensation under section 25C of the Industrial Disputes Act, will be paid compensation due to them. He stated that the reasons for the lay-off were (1) Strike of the 714 workmen of the contractor from 7 A.M. on 2nd July 1962 (2) refusal of the workmen to do alternative work and (3) advice of the union office bearers and offer of the management to pay higher wages for alternative work had not been heeded. In this letter he referred to a telegram dated 4th July 1962 which the Regional Labour Commissioner (C), Jabalpur, had addressed to the Manager of the Colliery in which he had stated with reference to the manager's notice dated 2nd July 1962 regarding the alleged strike and proposed lay off that the strike was not existing and hence lay-off without compensation, if effected, would be illegal. The Manager of the Colliery in his letter dated 6th July 1962 stated that the Regional Labour Commissioner had misunderstood the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act and that his opinion as stated in his said telegram of 4th July 1962 was incorrect. Surprisingly, the Manager in this letter dated 6th July 1962 stated that, "the contractor's workers who were recruited, controlled and supervised by the contractor and who were paid by the contractors could not be the workers under the principal employers" yet in the same letter he took up the position that, "the main employers offer to re-employ such contractor's workmen remained thrown out and in a concerted manner by the retrenched workmen of the industry and under, the contractor refuse to accept the work under the main employer and were hence staging a strike which was illegal under section 23(c) "being in violation of the settlement of 9th January 1961 which was then in operation. He concluded the inconsistent position by further observing, "It is to be understood that in this dispute the main employer is not even a party and the machinery is saddling the wrong horse and avoiding the contractor."

17. By another letter of the same date i.e. 6th July 1962 (exhibit A-9—Ex. W-8) the Manager of the Colliery conveyed to the Secretary of the Union 'he offer which the head office had authorised him to make in reply to his telegram dated 3rd June 1962 (exhibit W-27). The offer was (1) that the company would take the coal-cutters, loaders and drill crew employed by the contractors (2) that it would take back 50 per cent of the munshi-cum-clerical staff considering their suitability and qualifications and competency and that the cases of the remaining about 20 persons in the clerical-cum-munshi group would be discussed during discussions in August and that wages would be paid to the workers taken over on 30th June 1962; that the terms and conditions of workers taken over could be discussed in August 1962 when the demand for continuity of service could also be discussed along with the other terms and conditions of service. He stated in conclusion that if the union was agreeable he was ready to enter into an agreement and start production ending the strike.

18. On 9th July 1962 the Manager addressed a letter to the Conciliation Officer, Jabalpur, who had, in the meantime, invited the parties to a meeting on 10th July 1962 at the Kurasia Rest House for discussion. In his letter the Manager of the Colliery discussed at length the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act and contended that there was a strike in the colliery (exhibit W-10).

19. On the same date, i.e. 9th July 1962, the Colliery Manager put up a notice on the notice board (Ex. W-11) intimating that the responsibility for all payments due from the raising contractor was that of the contractors and not of the company. He advised the workmen to recover all their dues from the raising contractor within seven days after which the company would settle the claim of the raising contractor and thereafter not entertain any claims. It may be noted that in this notice it was not stated that the liability of retrenchment compensation to the contractor's workmen was that of the raising contractor.

20. On 11th July 1962 the Colliery Manager put up yet another notice (exhibit W-12) in which referring to his earlier notice dated 4th July 1962 by which 86 workmen had been laid off, he now stated that these 86 workmen could not be given work because of reasons beyond the control of the company till such time as normality was restored and that the action of the management was permissible under standing order No. 25; that during this period of stoppage leave eligible with pay is sanctioned for these 86 workmen and for period in excess of leave due and for those to whom no leave was due the period of stoppage of work would be viewed as compulsory leave without pay.

21. It will be noticed that by this notice the 86 workmen who had been laid off from 4th July 1962 under section 25E(iii) were now sought to be treated as having been from that date on compulsory leave with or without pay. It appears that the union had taken exception to this circular and had addressed a letter to the Manager of the Colliery who by his letter dated 13th July 1962 (exhibit W-13) addressed to the Secretary of the Federation denied that the workers were not allowed to work. He stated that the colliery's doors were open and that the management was eager to employ all workers of the contractor and that it was under the instigation of the union that the workmen were refusing to work or become the company's workers; that wagon were not coming and that there was no work which could be given to the 86 shell pickers cum shunting mazdoors; that they were engaged for the first two days beyond 4th July when they refused to do the alternative work which alone was possible and when no other work was available the company had to apply standing order 25. He concluded the letter by stating that even now the contractor's workers, barring 28 of the clerical-cum-munshi staff, can all attend to their works accepting employment under the colliery when it would not be necessary for any one to suffer.

22. On the same date i.e. 13th July 1962, the Regional Labour Commissioner addressed a letter to the Managing Director of the company at Nagpur, with copies to the Secretary of the company and the colliery manager at Chirimiri, in which he stated that the lay-off without compensation was illegal as previously intimated telegraphically; that the lay off was in contravention of section 25C of the Industrial Disputes Act, and he called upon the management to show cause why they should not be prosecuted under section 31(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 for violating section 25C (W-16). To this the Secretary of the company replied by his letter dated 18th July 1962 (exhibit E-22) in which he stated that the proposed action under section 31(2) was both improper and illegal and he referred the Conciliation Officer to the management's letter of 6th July 1962 in which he had stated the reasons for the lay off from 4th July 1962. He repeated that the 86 workmen were offered alternative work of loading stock coal lying in the colliery siding which they had refused, and that the offer of more wages for doing this work was also refused and the advice of union officials had not been heeded by the workmen and consequently the management had been compelled to resort to lay off under section 25E and it was not liable to pay any lay off compensation.

23. On 14th July 1962, (Ex. W-14=Ex. A-10) the Manager of the Colliery issued a circular in which after stating that the workers were refusing to work, he directed that with immediate effect under clause 25 of the Standing Orders all departmental workers are given leave with pay to the fullest extent and granted leave without pay till the emergency persisted. By this notice all departmental heads were requested to keep only essential men needed for the present day activities and all available for due leave, should be granted leave in full. The departmental workmen, who it is admitted are the direct employees of the company in the colliery, thus put on compulsory leave, numbered 800, including the 86 who were earlier laid off on 4th July 1962. He forwarded copies of this circular to the Madhya Pradesh Colliery Workers' Federation and to the head office of the company at Nagpur. He had also stated in that letter that in case the emergency was over and coal production started, the departmental personnel were welcome to report for duty and when applicable arrears of unenjoyed leave would be given credit to them from the time of reporting back to duty. I may state that under this notice 500 workmen, including the 86 laid off earlier, were stopped from work. According to the union this stoppage from work by compulsion, putting the workmen on leave was a lock-out of these men. The union objected to this circular by its letter dated 16th July 1962 (exhibit W-16=A-17). The union stated that standing order 25 was not attracted in this case; that the abolition of the contract system affected the services of the workers employed in the colliery and that the action of the management was in violation of the agreement for abolition of contract labour; that it was a case of non-implementation of the agreement for abolition of contract labour dated 30th January 1962 and therefore the company could not take shelter under clause 25 of the standing order. The union categorically stated that the workmen were not prepared to go on leave and that the action of the company amounted to a lock-out which was illegal and in case the company insisted on taking such illegal action it would do so at its cost and consequences. It may be stated here that the workmen did not avail of the leave but kept on reporting for duty in spite of their having been put on leave. To this, the company replied by its letter dated 16th July 1962 (exhibit A-12=W-15) in which the manager stated that refusal of the manager's orders would amount to misconduct. He denied that the company had violated the agreement to abolish the contract system and stated that the direct workmen of the contractor could go on their duties without filling in any application form and that the Federation was misguiding them. He accused the union of having launched on a strike in violation of the agreement of 9th January 1961 and stated that standing order 25 was invoked because of reasons beyond the control of the company.

24. There is on record a statement (exhibit A-15) giving particulars of the persons put on compulsory leave as per standing order 25. It is seen from this list that 500 workmen, including the 86 which were laid off earlier, were stopped from work and that 281 persons were continued on work for essential needs. By a slip (exhibit W-19) addressed to all time-keepers etc. the manager directed that during compulsory leave lay-off/stoppage of work attendance should be marked as advised already i.e. that the workmen were on leave.

25. On 18/19th July 1962, (Ex. W-20) the Conciliation Officer (Central) Jabalpur, Shri D. Panda, addressed a letter to the Manager of the Colliery drawing his attention to the fact that, "as far as lay-off was concerned the provisions of the standing orders relating thereto have been superseded by section 25(C) of the Industrial Disputes Act 1947, as per section 25J of the said Act", which reads as follows:—

"25J.—The provisions of this chapter shall have effect notwithstanding anything inconsistent therewith contained in any other law (including standing orders) made under the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946."

The Manager of the Colliery was, therefore, asked to withdraw his lay-off notice dated 11th July, 1962. It appears that thereafter there were exchanges of telegrams between the Government of India, Ministry of Labour and Employment and the parties as a result of which Shri Gulab Gupta telegraphically informed the Secretary of the Union at Chirimiri on 25th July, 1962 to resume work if everybody was allowed. He informed the Ministry that the management was unwilling to take all contractors' employees and hence the workmen had not resumed work (exhibits W-23 and W-24). In the meantime on 21st July, 1962 (Ex. E. 16) Shri Gulab Gupta as General Secretary of the Federation addressed a letter to the Manager of the Colliery in which he argued that clause 25 of the standing orders was not applicable as the situation could not be termed beyond the control of the company because it was within the powers of the company to settle the matter amicably before abolishing the contract system. He maintained that clause 25 of the standing order did not apply and that putting the workmen on forced leave had amounted to lock-out, which was continuing at the company's risk and cost. He stated in the letter that he considered it necessary to clarify the stand of the federation in order that the management may correctly appreciate the position though its stand has already been clarified in its letters of 28th May, 1962 and 7th June, 1962. He reiterated that the only thing that the Federation wanted was that para 3 of the agreement dated 30th October, 1961 should be implemented and that this meant that the company before abolishing the contract system must (a) decide to employ all workers employed by or through the contractors (b) settle and terms and conditions of such workers with the federation before serving the notice to the contractor and that this had not been done so far. The company's refusal to employ 50 per cent of the munshi-clerical staff showed that it had the least regard to the agreement of 30th October, 1961. He characterised this as a breach of promise and unfair labour practice of the worst type. He concluded by warning the Manager that his threat to recruit fresh hands in place of the contractor's workmen would be challenged by the workmen by a 'Satyagraha'.

26. The matter was, therefore, taken up by the Regional Labour Commissioner (Central) Jabalpur in conciliation on 25th July, 1962. Before the Regional Labour Commissioner the management stated that its representatives were appearing before the Regional Labour Commissioner as observers and did not take any part in the proceedings before him. In the conciliation proceedings the union contended that these 501 workmen had been locked out and that clause 25 of the standing order did not apply. It, therefore, claimed that the company be directed to give employment to all the workmen and that Government should prohibit the lock-out under section 10(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The representative of the management in its statement denied that its action amounted to lock-out. Its case was that the management had been requesting the workers who were directly connected with the raising to resume work but they had refused to do so and consequently it was not possible and practicable to retain on duty the departmental employees, who had consequently been asked to avail themselves of the leave due to them with pay, and if not without pay. It further contended that it was not a lock-out because the place of employment had not been closed by the management; that the workers had not been suspended and all the workers had not been refused work. Since there was no agreement between the parties the Conciliation Officer submitted his failure report on 26th July, 1962. Thereafter, on 30th July 1962 (exhibit A-21) Shri Gulab Gupta addressed a letter to Seth Jamnadasji Daga, the Managing Director of the company in which after expressing his regret at his offer to resume work having been turned down, he specified seven terms on behalf of the union for the settlement of this dispute. The conditions were (1) that all the workers employed by the contractors should be taken back and discharge of surplus hands could be discussed later (2) they should be paid the same wages and granted leave and other facilities as under the contractor (3) that all of them must be given continuity of service and their past service with the contractor must be taken into account; if the company does not want to undertake this liability of continuity of service the workmen must be paid retrenchment compensation as per law; that this amount must be paid to the workers by the company which may or may not recover it from the contractor depending upon their terms of contract with the company (4) that for all future retirement benefits the service under the contractor must be taken into account (5) that the workers must be paid full wages for the entire period of forced idleness as the company was responsible for the stoppage of work (6) that if the company decided to pay retrenchment compensation and not give continuity of service all workers must be taken as permanent hands and (7) that the workers who were on forced leave must be given full wages for the entire period of lock-out.

27. I may state that earlier, on 26th July, 1962, the Manager of the Colliery had put up another circular exhibit W-25 in which in seeking to allay the anxiety of the employees he had stated (1) that the entire personnel of the ex-contractor viz. coal cutters, loaders and drill crew of a permanent nature could join their duties without any written application (2) that as far as, the munshi-cum-clerical staff of the contractor was concerned, only 28 would be selected and for this there was no necessity of filling in any new application form and that the selection of the 28 would be based on experience, qualification, their capacity for work etc, which would be decided in conjunction with the federation; that the other 28 of the clerical -cum-munshi personnel whom the company was not wanting to employ they would have to seek redress through the ex-contractor for retrenchment compensation.

28. Efforts were thereafter made by the Joint Secretary to the Government of India, Ministry of Labour and Employment (Evaluation and Implementation) to end this dispute but it is the union's grievance that because of the non-co-operative attitude of the employers, no settlement could be reached whereupon Shri Gulab Gupta issued a statement on 31st July, 1962 (exhibit W-28) in which he stated that the management had precipitated matters by not accepting the union's repeated offer to resume work immediately if all the employees working under the contractor were allowed by the company. Thereafter, this dispute was referred to adjudication by the Government's order dated 3rd August, 1962.

29. I may state that in view of the stoppage of work that was continuing in the colliery, by notice dated 21st August 1962 I fixed the hearing of the dispute at Nagpur on the 28th and 29th August, 1962. The Union filed its written statement on 22nd August, 1962 and the employer Company on 25th August, 1962. After the hearing of the dispute at Nagpur had concluded on 29th August, 1962, on my return to Bombay, I was furnished by the management with a copy of the settlement dated 2nd September, 1962, which has been reached between the parties, under the terms of which the normal working of the colliery was resumed with effect from the first shift of 3rd September, 1962. Under clause one of the terms of this settlement, "consequent to the abolition of the contract system in this colliery, the company has agreed to take over all 714 workers employed by or through the contractor with effect from the date of abolition of contract system. The company gives up the stand taken by them in their advertisement dated 8th June, 1962 or any other correspondence without prejudice to the stand to be taken by them on any term and condition of service of all such workers". Clause 2 of the settlement provides that, "the question of retrenching surplus hands, if any, but subject to a maximum of fifteen, will be mutually discussed and settled by the parties after the production had started and the parties have had the opportunity to assess the actual requirement"; under clause (3) of the settlement the terms and conditions of service of the workmen taken over by the company are to be mutually discussed by the parties. If no settlement is reached the same would be referred either to arbitration under section 10A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, or jointly referred to adjudication under section 10(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Clauses 4, 5 and 6 of the settlement inter alia deal with the question of payment of wages and bonus to the 714 workmen of the contractors taken in service. On the point of wages and bonus of the 714 contractors workmen for the period from date of abolition of contract system till resumption of work on 3rd September, 1962, the company has agreed to pay within three weeks of the date of the agreement to the Federation the sum of Rs. 45,000/- to be distributed by the Federation to the workers who have suffered during this period. The Federation has in accepting this amount reserved the right to seek further relief on account of wages and bonus for the period of stoppage by mutual discussion with higher officials of the company.

30. It will, however, be noticed that these terms of settlement do not cover the subject matters of the dispute under this reference, which, therefore, has to be adjudicated upon. I may state that Shri Gulab Gupta of the Union has informed me telegraphically in reply to an enquiry addressed by me to both parties, that the said settlement of 3rd September, 1962, does not cover this dispute.

31. I, therefore, proceed to deal with the contentions raised by the parties in their written statements and at the hearing of this dispute.

32. The management in its written statement has raised a preliminary objection that the question whether the grant of compulsory leave by the employers to their workmen amounted to lay-off or not, referred to this Tribunal by Government, was outside the competence of the Central Government as there was no dispute that the action taken amounted to lay off. In support, the management has relied upon the letter of the colliery (exhibit A-10) dated 14th July, 1962 and the union's letter dated 16th July, 1962 (exhibit A-13) and upon the failure report of the Conciliation Officer dated 26th July, 1962 in which there is no mention of lay-off. It has also been urged that in the written statement of claim filed by the union there was no claim made out on the ground of lay-off but only on the alleged ground of lock-out. Shri R. K. Thakur, the learned Advocate for the employer company has, therefore, urged that the reference with regard to lay-off by the Central Government was without jurisdiction and could not be adjudicated upon by this Tribunal. He has contended that there is no dispute in the matter of lay-off and, therefore, there could not be any industrial dispute and I should, therefore restrict my enquiry on the ground of alleged lock-out. I am of the opinion that there is no real substance in this contention. In my opinion, the question of lay-off referred to in the order of reference applies with regard to the lay off by the company of the 86 workmen from 4th July, 1962 by the company's notice of that date (exhibit W-7), to which I have already referred. The lay-off was effected on the ground that there was a strike in the colliery from 2nd July 1962 of the ex-employees of the contractor, and consequently there was no work for these workmen, who had refused alternative work. It was for this reason that the company sought to lay off these workmen without payment of any compensation under section 25E(III) of the Industrial Disputes Act, and they were told that they would be taken back when the strike was withdrawn and normal work was restored. The union had protested against this lay-off and the Regional Labour Commissioner (Central), Jabalpur, by his telegram dated 4th July, 1962 had already warned the Manager that the alleged strike was not existing and lay-off without compensation being paid, would be illegal. Correspondence thereafter ensued between the Manager of the colliery and the Regional Labour Commissioner (Central) and the union on the subject. But what is pertinent for the purpose of consideration of the legal objection raised by Shri Thakur is that by notice dated 11th July, 1962 (exhibit W-12) the Manager converted the lay-off into compulsory leave with pay for those to whom leave was due and without pay for the rest for the period of their stoppage of work i.e. from 4th July, 1962. In other words it was sought to convert the lay-off into putting these 86 workmen on compulsory leave with or without pay retrospectively from 4th July, 1962. This action was taken under the provisions of clause 25 of the certified standing orders of the colliery, with which I shall deal presently. Now, this action of the management in putting these 86 workmen on compulsory leave with or without pay has been described by the union as a lock-out. But there is not the least doubt that on 4th July, 1962 these 86 workmen had been laid off, the management purporting to act under the provisions of section 25E(III) of the Industrial Disputes Act and they were treated as laid off till 11th July, 1962 when the company served its notice exhibit W-12. Later, when by its notice dated 14th July, 1962 the colliery manager purported to act under clause 25 of the certified standing orders and put the 500 departmental workers on compulsory leave, these 86 workmen were also treated as having been put on compulsory leave from that date. The union has called this putting on compulsory leave of the workmen as a lock-out and the question that has been referred to me is whether the action of the management "in compelling these workmen to proceed on leave with or without wages amounts to lock-out of such workers or lay off." I am of the opinion that the reference with regard to lay off as stated in the order of reference is competent with regard to the 86 workmen for the period from 4th July, 1962 to 14th July, 1962 as they were laid off by the company's notice dated 4th July, 1962 till 14th July, 1962 and thereafter the case of these 86 workmen must be considered along with the rest of the 414 (414+86=500) departmental workers who were put on compulsory leave and the question with regard to them would be whether putting them on compulsory leave, amounted to a lock out or not.

33. I shall, therefore, first deal with the question whether these 86 workmen had been legally laid off between 4th July, 1962 and 14th July, 1962 and whether their lay off was justified. As the company's notice of 4th July, 1962 itself states these 86 workmen were laid off because according to the Manager there was a strike of the 714 contractor's workers. It is, therefore, necessary to consider whether there was a strike of the contractor's workmen by 4th July, 1962. It is not disputed that under the terms of the agreement of 30th October, 1961 reached before the Court of Enquiry the parties to that dispute had agreed to abolish the contract system with regard to the raising of coal. The terms of the agreement of 30th October, 1961 are very clear on the point and in fact that is not disputed. The company by its very first notice dated 26th May 1962 (exhibit A-4) stated that because of the agreement reached on 30th October, 1961 it was obliged to put an end to the contract system for raising coal and it had specifically stated that it would raise coal departmentally. It is significant that at no time after 30th June, 1962, when the raising contract ended, the company had taken over in its service the workers employed by the contractor's workmen. That it was the duty of the company to take over all the workmen employed by the contractors for raising coal, is quite clear from the provisions of para 3 of the agreement dated 30th October, 1961, which provides as follows:—

"That all work except in the aforesaid categories of work shall be taken over and carried on departmentally by the principal employer as early as possible but not later than 30th September 1962 and that all workers employed by or through contractors should be employed by the principal employer, if the particular work is to be continued. The terms and conditions of such workers should be settled mutually by the union and the employer at the colliery level."

From the first part of this paragraph it is abundantly clear that it was obligatory on the part of the company to employ all the workmen that were employed by the contractor in the work of raising coal, as admittedly that work was to be continued in the colliery.

34. As regards the question as to whether there was a strike in the colliery from 14th July, 1962 the position of the company is that the 714 workmen of the contractor were on strike. But before the company could send these workmen on compulsory leave it was necessary for it to establish that by that time it had taken these workmen in its employment. In other words, before these men could be put on compulsory leave they had first to be accepted by the company as its employees. From a careful perusal of the correspondence, to which I have referred in detail earlier, it is evident to me that there was no employer-employee relationship accepted by the company in respect of these 714 workmen who were employed by the contractor. In fact the company's case and stand was that it was not going to employ all the 714 workers of the contractor but would offer employment afresh to only such of them as would fulfil the company's tests of suitability and the requirements of the company. This was recorded in the advertisement (Ex. W-3) inviting applications for various categories of workmen to be engaged as fresh recruits for the work that the contractor's workmen were doing in raising coal. From the language of the advertisement it is quite clear that the company was not prepared to employ even all the workmen engaged on direct production work who were the employees of the contractors, but that it invited fresh applications and it was prepared to take these workmen as fresh recruits only if they were found suitable and such of them in number as would fulfil the requirements of the colliery. In other words, the company was, throughout, not prepared to act in terms of para 3 of the agreements of 30th October, 1961, which was binding on it and in pursuance of which it had terminated the raising contract. Thus, immediately on termination of the contract the company was not prepared to take all the workmen employed by the contractor, not even all of those who were directly engaged in the work of production, but that it was going to select even out of these, only such as were suitable. No doubt, in subsequent notices put up by the Manager he had offered to take into service all the 714 workmen of the contractors, excepting 56 who were working as clerk-cum-munshis. The union objected and wanted that all the employees of the contractors should be taken into the company's service. But it is clear that at no time was a contract of service established between the company and the 714 contractors' workmen or even the 658 workmen (excluding the 56 who the company was saying were engaged as clerks-cum-munshis) whom the Manager of the Colliery had later offered to take into service. There would, therefore, be no strike of the contractors workmen after 30th June, 1962 unless they had joined the service of the company and as it is clear that the company had never accepted any of the contractors' workmen as its employees it cannot be said that these men were on strike. On the contrary the correspondence makes it clear that all these 714 workmen wanted to and claimed that under the agreement of 30th October, 1961, the company was bound to take them into its service. I am, therefore, satisfied that there was no strike of the contractors' workmen on 4th July, 1962 and that the Manager's case that it was justified in laying off these 86 workmen because the contractors workmen or even a section of them had gone on strike is clearly not established. The management has stated that these 86 workmen had refused to do alternative jobs. This is denied by the union and no evidence was led by the management in proof of its allegation. The management, therefore, must be held not to have established that these workmen had refused to do alternative job. It must, therefore, be held that the company's stand that it was entitled to lay off these 86 workmen without paying them any compensation because lay off was due to a strike or slowing down of production of work by the workmen in another part of the establishment i.e. that non-payment of compensation for the period of lay-off was justified, is wrong. I may say that the Manager of the Colliery was warned by the Regional Labour Commissioner (C) in his telegram dated 4th July, 1962 that his contention that there was a strike of the 714 workmen of the contractors was wrong and illegal and yet the colliery manager persisted in that position. However, later when he realised that this position was not tenable and the Regional Labour Commissioner (C) was threatening to prosecute him for having laid off the workmen without paying the compensation prescribed by section 25C of the Industrial Disputes Act, he applied standing order 25 to these 86 workmen by putting them on compulsory leave and converted the lay-off into compulsory leave with or without pay under standing order 25. I am, therefore of the opinion that the lay off of these 86 workmen from 4th July, 1962 in effect till 14th July, 1962 was illegal and unjustified, and I hold accordingly. It is admitted that these were permanent workmen who had put in one year's service. Now, with regard to the basis of the relief to be allowed to these 86 workmen for the period of their lay-off, as I am allowing relief for the rest of the workmen who were stopped from work by being put on compulsory leave from 14th July, 1962 till 2nd September, 1962, and 50 per cent. of their basic wages (including underground allowance where payable) and dearness allowance, I direct that for the period of lay off from 4th July, 1962 to 13th July, 1962 (both days inclusive), these 86 workmen shall be paid compensation on the same basis at the rate of wages applicable to them as on 1st July, 1962 and that thereafter they shall be included among the other workmen who were locked out along with these 86 workmen, in all numbering 500, for payment of the relief which I am awarding them herein. In the overall result these 86 workmen will get by way of relief 50 per cent. of their basic wages, including underground allowance, where payable, and dearness allowance for the period from 4th July, 1962 till 2nd September, 1962.

35. The next question that falls for determination is whether by compelling the workmen to proceed on leave with or without pay the management had resorted to a lock-out. The union has argued that it amounted to a lock-out while the management's contention is that this action was taken under standing order 25 and in the circumstances of the case, it was justified. Both parties have relied upon the correspondence which I have detailed earlier. The company's case is that it had, before the termination of the contract took effect from 1st July, 1962, offered to take back in its employment all the 714 employees of the contractor, except the 56 who were employed as clerks-cum-munshis. The company's contention as stated in its written statement and as urged before me by its learned Advocate, Shri Thakur, is that under the provisions of clauses 1 and 2 of the agreement of 30th October, 1961, what the company was required to do was to take into employment only those of the workmen of the contractor who were directly connected with the raising of coal and the contention of the company is that out of the 714 workmen only 658 were employed directly in the work of raising coal and that it was the liability of the company only to employ those 658 workmen. Shri Thakur has, in this connection, referred to the opening sentence of para 2 of the agreement of 30th October, 1961 which states—

"It is further agreed that all processes directly connected with the raising and despatch of coal and manufacture and despatch of coke shall be the direct responsibility of the principal employer and all workers engaged therein, shall be the employees of the principal employer except in the following categories."

And he has argued that these 56 workmen whom the company was not willing to employ were not engaged in processes directly connected with the raising and despatch of coal and manufacture as they were workmen who were doing clerical and supervisory work. He has in this connection referred to the definition of direct labour as contained in two books on cost accountancy (Cost Accounting by John G. Blocker Ph.D. page 18 (3rd edition) and Cost Accountancy by Harold J. Wheldon (3rd edition) pp. 8 and 11). It was also suggested that these clerks and supervisory staff were engaged for doing the other contract work which the raising contractors had taken from this company in this very colliery, but there is no sufficient evidence on this point for me to accept this contention of the management. In fact there is evidence of Shri P. K. Lahiri (W.W. 1) in support of the union's claim that all these 714 workmen of the contractors were engaged in direct production work. Shri Lahiri in his evidence has stated:—

"All the 714 workmen employed by us were engaged in coal raising work and processes. (Shown list of 56 workmen (Ex. W. 28). I say that all of them were working for coal raising work. All these 56 workmen were working for my company viz., B. B. Lahiri and Sons. Ponri Hill (P) Ltd. Our company has also undertaken some building contracts in this colliery and for that work we have made different arrangements. None of the 56 workmen mentioned in W-28 were working for the building contract work."

This position was not assailed in cross-examination, where the attempt was to show that instead of the former 3 places where the raising work was being carried on, it was now being carried on at only one place, necessitating reduction in the number of these workmen. But Shri Lahiri in cross-examination has denied this suggestion and stated that when working in one place the contractors had employed the same number of these categories of workmen as when the colliery was worked at three places. I accept this evidence of Shri Lahiri.

36. Therefore, on the facts of this case, I am satisfied that all the 714 workmen of the contractor were employed in direct production work and the company was, therefore, on the termination of the raising contract bound to take all these 714 workmen in its service. This, however, does not mean that the company cannot, after it has taken over all the 714 contractor's men as its direct employees send away the surplus staff. This is exactly the position which has been accepted by the parties in the agreement of 3rd September, 1962, but they have limited the number of staff that would be considered surplus to only 15. I am, therefore, satisfied that the company was not justified in refusing to take all the 714 contractor's men in its employment. There is not the least doubt that it was this refusal that led to the subsequent trouble and gave rise to the company's sending 500 of its departmental employees on compulsory leave.

37. It has been urged on behalf of the management that the union had committed a breach of an earlier agreement dated 9th January 1961 which had been entered into between the company and the management during conciliation proceedings of a former dispute. The union has, on the other hand, charged the company with violation of that agreement. A copy of that agreement has been filed by the company (Ex. A. 3). That agreement which was reached in settlement of an earlier dispute provided that "parties further agree that in future differences or disputes, if any, will be first settled mutually between them and if still differences persist the matter will be referred to by the parties for conciliation and failing a settlement to arbitration under section 10A or adjudication under section 10(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947." I fail to see how the union has acted in contravention of this agreement because it is admitted that when the 86 workmen were laid off on 4th July, 1962 and again when the company put on compulsory leave with or without pay the 500 workmen from 14th July, 1962, it was the union that had referred the matter to conciliation. In the latter dispute, when the Conciliation Officer called the parties together it was the management that had refused to participate in the discussions and stated that it was merely appearing as an observer. The Conciliation Officer has recorded that whilst the union was prepared to have the matter referred for adjudication to a Tribunal or to arbitration it was the company which was opposed to either. In view of this I am satisfied that there has not been any violation of the agreement of 9th January, 1961 on the part of the union, as alleged by the management.

38. It has been urged on behalf of the management that the union was also in the wrong in having insisted that the company should have guaranteed the workmen of the contractors taken over by it continuity of service and in insisting that all questions about the terms and conditions of their service should have been settled by the management with the union prior to the date the contract of the raising contractor was terminated. In my opinion there is some substance in this contention of the management. The union, by its letter dated 21st July, 1962 (Ex. A. 16) had demanded that before abolishing the contract system the company should have (1) decided to employ all the workmen employed by or through the contractor (2) that it should have settled the terms and conditions of service of such workers with the union before serving the notice to the contractor. That letter stated that that was the stand of the union since 28th May, 1962 as stated in its letters Nos. 3750 dated 28th May, 1962 and FED/NCPH/62 dated 7th June, 1962. Shri Thakur has argued that the stand of the union that unless the 7 conditions specified by it in its letter of 30th July, 1962 exhibit A-21 were satisfied the workmen would not resume work was also not justified. I have in my resume of the correspondence between the parties stated in some detail the seven conditions Shri Gulab Gupta had specified as a condition precedent to the settlement of this dispute. I am of the opinion that whilst the management was clearly in the wrong in not agreeing to employ all the 714 workmen of the contractor the union appears to me to have acted inconsiderately in insisting on the continuity of service of all the 714 workmen and in laying down conditions before resumption of work. It may however be stated that the agreement of 30th October, 1961 is silent as to when the terms and conditions service of such workmen are to be settled by mutual discussions at the colliery level. Shri Gulab Gupta has argued that under para 3 of the of 30th October, 1961 such mutual discussions must be held prior to the termination of the contractor's agreement upon which the contractor's workmen were to become the employees of the employers. This is a possible interpretation. I am really not called upon in this case to decide that point. Nor is it necessary to do so. But I do think that the union was not showing a sense of realism or an anxiety to have work resumed in the colliery, when it put forward the seven conditions to be satisfied before the work was resumed.

39. Whilst the management has been unquestionably guilty of shifting its position during the pendency of this dispute and it was clearly in the wrong in stating that the contractor's workmen had gone on strike it appears to me, that the union has also not adopted a consistent position. Shri Thakur has pointed out that the union had tried to change its position with reference to the contractors by describing them as meddlers i.e. as something other than the raising contractors in this colliery. He also pointed out that the union had taken up the position before the Conciliation Officer that the company had terminated the services of the 714 workmen. As I have said, I am holding that there was no strike of these contractors' workmen because there was no contract of service established between them and the employer company. That was the stand of the union in correspondence and that was a correct stand. I think, therefore, that the union also has been changing its front and adopting inconsistent positions. I mention all these circumstances because in my opinion they are relevant for the purposes of the relief to be granted.

40. But to revert to the main issue, whether putting on leave these 500 workmen and it is their case only that has to be considered by me in this reference—(the question of what relief the 714 workmen are entitled to not having been referred to me for adjudication and which in fact has been separately settled by the parties by the settlement of 3rd September, 1962 referred to ante)—I am of the opinion that the company's action in putting these 500 workmen on compulsory leave with or without wages from 14th July, 1962 had amounted to a lock out. A "lock-out" has been defined by section 2(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act, as follows:—

"lock-out" means the closing of a place of employment, or the suspension of work or the refusal by an employer to continue to employ any number of persons employed by him."

It has been urged by Shri Thakur, learned Advocate for the company that there had been no lock-out even after the 500 workmen had been put on compulsory leave as some 281 workmen had continued to work. His argument is that there was no closing of the place of employment and no suspension of work and therefore there was no lock-out. But it is admitted that those 281 workmen were working on essential work as otherwise the colliery might have got flooded and irreparable damage would have been done and the colliery would not have been able to restart work immediately. It is not necessary for a lock-out that each and every workman of the colliery should be stopped from work. The definition of lock-out includes the refusal by an employer to continue to employ any number of persons employed by him. It is admitted that after the 500 workmen were put on compulsory leave production in the sense of raising of coal which is the main function of the colliery had ceased and I think that when a majority of the workmen are stopped from work and production in the industrial establishment is stopped, as in this case the raising of coal was stopped, then it must be held that there was a lock-out of its workmen. There is not the least doubt in my opinion that by putting these 500 workmen on leave with or without pay from 14th July, 1962 what the company did was to refuse to continue to employ them. I would, therefore, reject Shri Thakur's contention and hold that the putting by the company on compulsory leave of these 500 workmen had amounted to lock-out.

41. I am also satisfied that there was an element of duress in putting these workmen on compulsory leave as the object was to make the union agree to the company not taking over the 56 workmen from among the 714 workmen employed by the contractor. It was an act of belligerency or an act of reprisal and the fact that these workmen were put on leave for a limited period would not matter (See 1957 1 LLJ page 90). I am also satisfied from the circumstances already stated that the lock-out must be held to be unjustified and one for which the liability on the whole was that of the employers and I hold accordingly.

42. The company seeks to justify its action under its certified standing order clause 25 which is as follows:—

"The company may at any time or times in the event of underground trouble, fire, catastrophe, breakdown of machinery or stoppage of power supply, epidemics, civil commotion or other cause beyond the control company stop any section or sections of the colliery wholly or partially for any period or periods without notice and without compensation in lieu of notice.

In the event of such stoppage during working hours the employees affected shall be notified by notice put up on the notice board in the departments concerned or at the office of the Manager as soon as practicable.

Compulsory leave with pay shall be given to the extent of any privilege leave due to the employees, if no privilege leave is due, the compulsory leave will be without pay but the period will count as qualifying service in so far as provident fund membership or gratuity or bonus is concerned."

It is argued that its action in putting these 500 workmen on compulsory leave with or without pay was necessitated by causes beyond the management's control. Now, the meaning to be given to the expression "beyond the control of the company" has been the subject of judicial decisions. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Kaibetta Estate, Kotagiri, and Rajamanickam and others (1960 II LLJ p. 275) has held that the expression "for any other reason", appearing in section 2(kkk) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (Act 14 of 1947), which defines "lay-off", must be construed to mean reasons similar or analogous to the preceding reasons already specified. In that definition lay off was defined as amounting to failure, refusal or inability of the employer on account of shortage of coal, power or raw materials or the accumulation of stocks or the breakdown of machinery or for any other reason to give employment to workmen whose names were borne on the muster rolls of an industrial establishment and who have been retrenched. Their Lordships held that the expression "for any other reason" should be construed to mean reason similar or analogous to the preceding reasons specified in the definition and that a similar view of the Allahabad High Court in J.K. Hosiery Factories V. L.A.T. of India and another (1956 II LLJ, page 4), was correct. Shri Gulab Gupta has argued that the expression "other cause beyond the control of the management", appearing in standing order 25 of the company, must be given the same meaning and must therefore be a reason similar or analogous to the preceding reasons specified in the definition, viz., underground trouble, fire, catastrophe, breakdown of machinery or stoppage of power supply, epidemics, civil commotion, etc. Even assuming that standing order 25 applies, it cannot be said that the putting of these 500 workmen on compulsory leave with or without pay was, "for other causes beyond the control of the company", as required by standing order 25. I accept this contention of Shri Gulab Gupta and hold that the putting of these 500 workmen on compulsory leave, with or without pay from 14th July 1962 was not for "causes beyond the control of the company", and therefore, putting these workmen on compulsory leave was not valid under standing order 25.

43. It was urged by Shri Gulab Gupta that the provisions of standing order 25 must be deemed to have become subject to the provisions of Chapter VA of the Industrial Disputes Act. A Division Bench of the Bombay High Court in the case of Central India Spinning and Weaving Co. Ltd. v. State Industrial Court, Nagpur (1959 I LLJ, p. 468 at p. 473) has held that after the enactment of Chapter VA of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, relating to compensation, retrenchment and lay off, all standing orders of a company would be subject to the provisions of this Chapter. Section 25J of the Industrial Disputes Act provides that the provisions of Chapter VA shall have effect notwithstanding anything inconsistent therewith contained in any other law including standing orders made under the Industrial Employment Standing Orders Act, 1946. Shri Thakur has, however, argued that Chapter VA would have no application in the present case as that Chapter applies only to cases of lay off and retrenchment and that as the union's case in its written statement has been that from 14th July 1962 these workmen have been illegally locked out, the provisions of Chapter VA do not apply. But in my opinion the case of the 86 workmen who were laid off from 4th July 1962 to 14 July 1962 would be covered by the provisions of Chapter VA and not by standing order 25. However, as I have already upheld the contention of Shri Gulab Gupta that the putting of these 500 workmen on compulsory leave on the ground of "other causes beyond the control of the company", is not covered by standing order No. 25, it is not necessary to consider this contention of Shri Thakur with regard to the 500 workmen who were locked out. The result would be the same even if this contention of Shri Thakur were to be upheld.

44. I have already held that the company was wrong in not taking all the 714 workmen in its employment and that gave rise to all the subsequent trouble. That was a cause certainly not beyond the control of the company under standing order 25. It must, therefore, be held that the action of the management in putting these 500 workmen on leave with or without pay had amounted in effect to refusing to give employment to these 500 workmen from 14th July 1962 and therefore this action amounted to a lock-out of the workmen. From what I have stated earlier this lock-out must be held to be illegal and unjustified. It has stemmed from an illegal and unjustified action of the management in refusing to give employment to 714 workmen employed by the contractor on the termination of his contract. It had the necessary element of duress and belligerence. I, therefore, answer the first point under reference in favour of the workmen and hold that there was an illegal and unjustified lay off of 86 workmen from 4th July 1962 to 14th July 1962 and that from 14th July 1962 there was also an illegal and unjustified lock-out of 500 workmen, including the 86 workmen who had earlier been laid off from 4th July 1962, and that the lock-out continued till 3rd September 1962.

45. The next question to consider is what is the relief if any to be granted to the workmen.

46. I have given anxious consideration to what is the relief that should be given to these workmen. I have held that the management's action in putting these workmen on compulsory leave with or without pay had amounted to a lock-out. The lock-out lasted from 14th July 1962 till the work was resumed on 3rd September 1962 as communicated to me by the management and as recorded in the terms of settlement reached between the parties on that date, to which I have referred earlier. Therefore, the lock-out has lasted in all about 51 days and the question is what relief the 500 workmen so locked-out should be given for this period. Shri Gulab Gupta has urged that I should award them full wages and he has vehemently argued that the sole blame for the continuance of the closure has been that of the management. No doubt the management has been wrong in starting the lock-out. But I am not satisfied that the union has not been partially responsible for the continuance of the lock-out. I cannot help stating that if a more realistic and responsible approach had been adopted by the union, the lock-out could have ended earlier. After a consideration of the facts and circumstances of the case I think that the ends of justice would be met if I were to direct that the management should make the following payments:—

- (1) for the 86 workmen for the period of lay-off from 4th July 1962 to 13th July 1962 (both days inclusive) 50 per cent of basic wages and underground allowance, were payable, and dearness allowance;
- (2) for the 500 workmen (inclusive of the 86 workmen) of clause (1) above, for the period of lock-out from 14th July 1962 to 3rd September 1962—50 per cent of the basic wages and underground allowance, where payable, and dearness allowance.

47. The basic wages, underground and dearness allowance, shall be calculated at the rates of wages payable to the workmen as on 1st July 1962.

48. I further direct that the management shall make payments of the awarded dues to the workmen concerned within two months from the date this award becomes enforceable.

49. I award Rs. 100/- as costs to the Union.

SCHEDULE

- “(i) Whether the present housing facilities provided by the Satna Cement Works for the workers employed in their limestone quarries are adequate and satisfactory; if not, to what relief the workers are entitled to?
- (ii) Whether the following categories of workmen employed in the Lime-stone quarries of the aforesaid management are entitled to supply of any dress and if so, at what scale:—
 - (1) Loco drivers, (2) Loco helpers, (3) Drillers, (4) Driller helpers, (5) Blasters, (6) Watchmen.
- (iii) Whether the existing water supply facilities provided for the workers in the Labour Colony are satisfactory; if not, what should be the scale of such water supply?
- (iv) Whether the workers employed in the aforesaid establishments are entitled to any extra wages or allowances for attending to night work; if so, at what rate?
- (v) Whether the union's demand for appointment of a nurse or a mid-wife at the aforesaid establishment is justified; if so, to what relief the workers are entitled?
- (vi) Whether the aforesaid management is justified in not paying wages to Shri Kedar Singh, Loco driver, and Shri Baban Singh, Loco helper from 9th October 1961 to 12th October 1961; if not, to what relief these two workmen are entitled?”

2. After the usual notices were issued, the written statement on behalf of the employers was received on 8th June 1962 and two sets of written statements on behalf of the workmen—one dated 17th July 1962 signed by Shri B. C. Jain, President, Satna Cement Mazdoor Union, Satna and the other dated 10th August 1962 signed by Shri K. B. Chougule, as authorised representative of the workers were also received. The company filed two sets of rejoinders to these statements of the workmen dated 27th August 1962 and 6th September 1962.

3. At the hearing before me, Shri B. C. Jain and Shri H. Karim claimed to appear as President and Treasurer respectively of the Satna Cement Mazdoor

Union. Shri B. B. Ojha and Shri P. K. Misra claimed that they were the President and General Secretary of the Union and in support stated that in the conciliation proceedings before the Conciliation Officer (Central), Jabalpur in this dispute, Shri Misra had represented the workmen over these demands. This appears to be so from the Failure Report of the Conciliation Officer, where Shri P. K. Misra is stated to have appeared for the workmen. As I did not deem it fit or necessary to decide the rival claims of these office-bearers of the union, I have allowed both Messrs. Jain and Karim on the one hand and Messrs. Ojha and Misra on the other, to appear before me. I may state that the management in this matter rightly adopted a neutral attitude and had no objection to both sets of representatives being heard.

4. As I felt that for a proper adjudication of the demands of housing facilities and water supply to the workmen an inspection of the colony where the workmen reside was necessary. I visited Satna on Thursday, 4th October 1962 with the representatives of the parties and inspected with them the various colonies where the workmen reside, and the spring or "jharis" which is the main source of the water supply, as also the mining operation being carried out at the quarry.

5. This dispute concerns only the workmen employed in the limestone quarry of the Satna Cement Works of Messrs. Birla Jute Manufacturing Co. Ltd., hereinafter referred to as the company. I was told that the total number of workmen employed in the quarrying operations is about 800. The limestone is supplied to the company's Satna Cement Works, which is at a distance of about two miles from the quarries.

6. I now proceed to discuss the demands in their seriatim order:

Demand No. (i):

"Whether the present housing facilities provided by the Satna Cement Works for the workers employed in their limestone quarries are adequate and satisfactory; if not to what relief the workers are entitled to?"

7. The present position with regard to the housing of these workers is that the company has constructed 56 pucca built tenements, each consisting of two living rooms and a kitchen and a W.C. with an open courtyard. These 56 quarters have been constructed under the Subsidised Industrial Housing Scheme, under which 33 per cent subsidy is received by the company from the Madhya Pradesh Government. There are 50 other quarters under construction under the Madhya Pradesh Housing Board Scheme. But under that scheme the company has not to contribute anything towards the construction of these tenements but provides the land on which the quarters are built. These quarters have reached the roof level of construction and I was told that it was expected that they would be ready for occupation by December 1962. The company has a project for constructing 128 more quarters under the Madhya Pradesh Housing Board Scheme, but it is not known when construction of these quarters would start, but it is expected that their construction will start in 1962-63. Thus the position at present is that the company has provided only 56 pucca built quarters for its limestone quarry workers. The vast majority of the workmen therefore live in huts in various small colonies around the quarries. For the construction of these huts the company has supplied and supplies to the workmen certain building materials like bamboos, "ballis", bamboo mattings and thatching materials. As I have stated earlier, I have seen these hutments and the colonies in which the workmen reside, and the least I can say is that they are thoroughly unfit for human habitation. At the inspection the workmen complained bitterly of their living conditions. It was admitted that recently there was a fire in one of these colonies when 14 huts were completely burnt out, with total destruction of the contents of the huts. The fire also resulted in one female worker being burnt to death and several workers being injured. It was told at the inspection that when Shri Birla, one of the Directors of the company, had visited the colony after the fire he had sanctioned the payment of Rs. 50/- per workers affected but I was told at the inspection by the workmen that the majority of them had only received Rs. 10/- per head. I do trust that if anything is due and payable on this score, the management will make it a point to pay the same without any delay.

8. But to resume, the management in its written statement has taken the stand that it is not an obligation cast upon it to provide housing facilities to its workmen and that no industrial dispute can be raised or referred by Government on a demand for providing housing facilities to the workmen by the employers. At the hearing before me Shri Nanavaty has relied upon the judgment in the case of the Patan Electric Supply Company where it was held that providing of housing facilities was not an obligation of the employers. No doubt that is the correct legal position but in this quarry the company has from the beginning undertaken the obligation of providing housing accommodation to its workmen as evidenced by the fact that not only has it built 56 pucca quarters for them under the subsidised housing scheme but it also provides building materials to the workmen for constructing their huts on the lands of the company near the quarries. It has to be remembered that all the land in the vicinity of the quarries is under the control of the company and it is next to impossible for the workmen to put up any quarters of their own except on lands of the company. The Cement Wage Board in its recommendations has awarded the payment of house rent allowance by the employers to the workmen. The minimum house rent allowance fixed is Rs. 7.50 per month and has to be paid to every employee; but is deductible in its entirety in the case of employees who are provided with pucca quarters, with electric lighting. The schedule of rates of deductions to be made is stated in paragraph 13.4.1. of the Cement Wage Board's Report. The Wage Board has divided the quarters into Pucca and Kutcha quarters. "Pucca quarters" are those with masonry walls and roofs with reinforced concrete or tiled or asbestos/C.I. sheets. "Kutcha quarters" are those with walls made of mud or bricks in mud and roof with mats/thatched, canvas etc. It is admitted that from those workers who have occupied the pucca built quarters of the company deductions are made at the rates specified in the Cement Wage Board's Report, but no deduction appear to be made from those who are occupying the bamboo and thatched huts constructed by the workmen from materials supplied by the company, who number about 600 to 700. My attention was, however, drawn to the fact that the company has built stone walled and tinne roof sheds for the chaprasis and darwans employed at the quarries, who are made to pay a rent of Rs. 2.50 per month. These quarters are situated near the well adjoining the quarry office. Shri B. C. Jain, appearing for the workmen has stated that the least that the company could do is to construct such semi-pucca structures for the majority of the workmen. When questioned by me, Shri Nanavaty stated that to construct one quarter of the type mentioned above had cost the company about Rs. 100, but he expressed difficulty in obtaining tin sheets for the roofing. To this, Shri Jain suggested that, the company could supply locally made kutcha tiles for the roofing. He stated that if the company supplied the workmen with the necessary materials to build this type of quarters and locally made tiles and wooden doors, the workmen would, at their own cost build such quarters. In their written statements the unions have pointed out that what the company was doing now was to shift its responsibility for providing quarters on to the State. Whilst it is true that a Tribunal cannot give directions to the employers to provide quarters for its workmen, in the special circumstances of the present case I am of the opinion that it is competent for me to hold on the first issue under demand No. (1) that the housing facilities provided by the company for its workmen employed in the limestone quarries are neither adequate nor satisfactory. It has to be remembered that the quarry supplies the raw material to the cement works. The housing facilities provided to the workmen of the Cement Works, which also I was shown, were in striking contrast to the wretched conditions in which the large majority of the quarry workers are living. I cannot help feeling that both in the matter of housing and water supply the company has adopted a step-motherly attitude towards its quarry workers as compared to the facilities on both scores which it provides to its cement factory workers. After local inspection and after hearing the submissions of the parties, I am inclined to recommend to the management that they should, at the earliest, construct the stone-walled tinne-roofed type of quarters which it has constructed for the chaprasis and darwans of the quarries for the rest of its workmen, who are not provided with pucca built quarters. If it cannot do so, it should in the alternative at least provide the necessary materials for the construction of such quarters to the workmen who have expressed their willingness to build the quarters themselves from those materials and I do hope that the management will give serious consideration to this recommendation. If the company constructs such quarters it would be entitled to deduct Rs. 2.50 per month as rent for each such quarter.

9. As I have stated earlier, I admit the contention of the management that the Tribunal cannot make an award directing the company to build quarters to its workmen. Therefore, what I have stated above must be treated as a recommendation and not as a direction.

10. Demand No. (ii):

"Whether the following categories of workmen employed in the Limestone quarries of the aforesaid management are entitled to supply of any dress and if so, at what scale:

- (1) Loco drivers (2) Loco helpers (3) Drillers (4) Driller helpers
(5) Blasters (6) Watchmen."

The main ground urged on behalf of the workmen in support of this demand is that the clothes of these categories of workmen get soiled because of the very nature of their duties. It is, also urged that the wages received by these workmen are not adequate for them to provide protective clothing. The management in its written statement has denied liability to meet this demand except in respect of Watchmen, who are now being provided with uniforms. I had occasion, when I visited the quarry, to see the nature of work of loco drivers, loco helpers, drillers and driller helpers and I am more than satisfied that the very nature of their duty justifies the demand for some protective clothing to be provided for them. I am satisfied that their clothes get soiled because of the very nature of their duties, and therefore hold that the demand for protected clothing is justified. After hearing the submissions of the parties at some length, I am satisfied that the following dresses or uniforms should be supplied to the six categories under reference.

Loco drivers—Two sets of uniforms in a year—one set every six months—each set consisting of one cotton blue drill long pant and one half sleeved shirt. One woollen jerkin once in two years.

Loco helpers—Two sets of uniforms annually—one set every six months—each set consisting of one cotton drill half pant and one half sleeved shirt. One woollen jerkin once in two years.

Drillers, Driller Helpers and Blasters—For the present, they should be provided with two sets of uniforms—each set consisting of one cotton half pant and one cotton half sleeved shirt to be supplied immediately. One woollen jerkin to be supplied two years after 1st October, 1962. The first supply of woollen jerkin to be made on 1st October, 1964.

11. With regard to watchmen, the management has stated that they are supplying them uniforms. I would, however, direct that they should be provided with footwear as are supplied to the watchmen in the cement works i.e. one pair once in a year, and that they should also be given the same woollen clothing as is given to the watchmen in the cement works, which I am told, consists of one woollen buttoned up half coat supplied once in two years, and I direct accordingly.

12. Demand No. (iii):

"Whether the existing water supply facilities provided for the workers in the Labour Colony are satisfactory; if not, what should be the scale of such water supply?"

It is not denied by the management that the water supply position in the colony is not satisfactory. But it has expressed its inability to do anything as according to it the only source of water supply near the quarries is a spring or jharla about a mile and a half from the quarry, from which adequate supply of water cannot be got. The management's case is that it is doing its best to provide adequate water supply within the limited quantity of water available from the spring. I may state that accompanied by the representatives of the parties I visited this spring and noticed that diesel pumps have been put up to pump water out of this spring which is then taken by pipes to be stored in cement tanks which the company has provided. Two of those tanks are in the colony where the 56 pucca built quarters have been put up. Each of these two cement tanks has a capacity of storing 4500 gallons of water and there were six taps fixed to each of the tanks. But I was sorry to note that in one of the tanks the taps were not working and there was no water stored in the tank. This I was told, was because that tank was defectively constructed. Water was, therefore, supplied outside this tank through a galvanised iron pipe. I was sorry to notice that water was leaking from the walls of the first water tank and the water stored there was far from clean. It appears that taps have been provided in the pucca built quarters but no connection has been provided, because, according to the management, there is scarcity of water. I also inspected the cement tank where the water is stored in one of the colony of huts constructed by the workmen. This cement tank had four taps attached to it but the level of water was so low that it fell below the level of the taps with the result that the women labourers had to draw water out of this tank through rope and buckets. At the spring or jharla the workmen's representatives pointed out that the metal pipe there had been recently fixed and the mechanic admitted that it was installed a week ago. There are in all three pumps at the spring—one of 5 H.P. and the other two of 10 H.P., one of which is a standby. Whilst the company's case was that this spring did not yield sufficient water, the workers stated that if the spring is deepened and properly walled up it would be possible to get a greater supply of water. Shri Nanavaty then showed me a plan which the company has for improving the water supply from the spring. He stated that this had been submitted by the company to the Madhya Pradesh Housing Board and that the scheme of reconstruction would be finished by the end of December. The management pointed out that it had other difficulties to contend with inasmuch as the land through which the pipes pass did not belong to the company. The company, however, stated that it proposed to put up two pucca built water storage tanks after the reconstruction scheme at the spring or jharla was carried out, and it hoped that, that would help to solve the problem of the existing water scarcity. The workmen's spokesmen complained bitterly of the company's failure to take any effective steps to improve the water supply to the colonies of the workers. It accused the company of not having seriously tackled this problem. They pointed out that the Satna Stone and Limestone Company, which is functioning in the adjacent area, is purchasing water for its workmen from the Public Health and Engineering Department of Madhya Pradesh Government and it has urged that the management if it was serious in its efforts to supply adequate water to the colonies of its workmen, could also purchase water from that source. They also pointed out that the Railways had made their own arrangements for the supply of water to its employees in Satna. It was further pointed out that for the cement works employees this very company purchases water from the Public Health and Engineering Department. Shri Olha stated that in the adjoining areas there were a number of old wells which could be re-opened deepened and widened and which could yield water. Shri Nanavaty pointed out various difficulties regarding the purchase of water from the public health and engineering department of the Madhya Pradesh Government and he has stated that there is not sufficient discharge of water from the Tons river to enable the Public Health Engineering Department to supply water to the company for its quarry workers. But no correspondence was produced in support of this statement. After hearing the submissions of the parties and after the inspection I am more than satisfied that the existing water supply facilities are far from satisfactory and I answer the first part of demand No. (iii) accordingly.

13. I am also more than satisfied that the company has not made any serious efforts to supply adequate water to the colonies of the workers of these quarries. If serious efforts were made the position of water supply could have been much improved. I am satisfied, as evidenced by the efforts which the company is now making that if improvements were carried out to the existing natural spring by its being deepened and a proper wall constructed round it the supply of water could be very much improved. I am also not satisfied that the company could not in the past or even now cannot purchase some water from the public health and engineering department of the Madhya Pradesh Government or make some alternative arrangements to get water from either the railways or from the Satna river. As I have stated earlier the company appears to have adopted an indifferent attitude towards its workmen of the quarries, with regard to their housing facilities. This is more so with regard to the supply of water to the workmen of the quarries. I am afraid the plain fact of the matter is that the management has been indifferent in supplying this necessity of life to its workers, and that if it had been alive to its responsibility in this matter it could have done much more than what it has done. There are certain colonies viz., No. 9, 7, 11 and 15 groups where the distress of the workmen, for want of even the necessary supply of water for drinking, cooking and washing purposes is genuine and needs to be remedied immediately. The only direction that I can give in this regard is that within six months i.e. before 15th April, 1963, the management must provide adequate water supply to the workers in all the colonies in which they live by either (a) deepening and improving the nature spring or jharla and providing adequate storage tanks near each colony or by building over head reservoirs and providing taps near each colony and/or (b) by purchasing water from the Public Health and Engineering Department of Madhya Pradesh Government or from the Railways and/or by opening up and deepening old wells which have dried up. It is not possible to lay down the scale of water supply—but the water supply of water should be adequate to meet the reasonable requirements of each family of workers for drinking, cooking and washing purposes.

14. Demand No. (iv):

"Whether the workers employed in the aforesaid establishments are entitled to any extra wages or allowances for attending to night work; if so, at what rate?"

It appears that only the workers of the Transport Department in the quarries work in the night shift. It is admitted that the transport workers work in three shifts. There are only 55 workmen in the transport department who are divided into three batches of about 18 to 20 each and they do night shift by rotation. Shri Jain has stated that a special allowance should be given to the workmen working in the night shift on the analogy of what has been recently granted by the Port Trust and Railways to certain categories of workers working in the night shifts. But I do not think that that analogy could be justifiably applied to the present case. It is well settled by now that when an essential piece of work is done in three shifts working round the clock and there is rotation of men in the shifts the claim for a special night allowance cannot be entertained unless some special circumstances are shown in support thereof. No special circumstances have been pointed out in support of the demand for an extra allowance for the night shift workmen of the transport department who work in the night shift by rotation, and the demand is therefore rejected.

15. Demand No. (v):

"Whether the union's for appointment of a nurse or a midwife at the aforesaid establishment is justified; if so, to what relief the workers are entitled?"

It was pointed out at the hearing by the management that since the last six months it has appointed a nurse at its dispensary in the quarry. The demand is, therefore, satisfied and no order is called for.

16. Demand No. (vi):

"Whether the aforesaid management is justified in not paying wages to Shri Kedar Singh, Loco Driver and Shri Baban Singh, Loco Helper from 9th October 1961 to 12th October 1961; if not, to what relief these two workmen are entitled?"

At the hearing Shri Nanavaty stated that the company was prepared to pay these two workers their full wages for the four days from 9th October 1961 to 12th October 1961 both days inclusive and that the payment would be made within a week. The workmen were satisfied with this undertaking and I, therefore, award accordingly.

17. The only question that remains for determination is whether any order for costs is justified. Shri B. C. Jain has submitted a statement in which he has shown that the workmen would be entitled to Rs. 765-20 nP. The claim is unrealistic and exaggerated. I think in the facts and circumstances of the case an order for costs of Rs. 200 i.e. Rs. 100 in favour of each set of representatives of the union would be adequate and I direct that the company should pay the same within seven days from the date this award becomes enforceable.

"Whether the management of the National Insurance Company Limited, Bombay was justified in dismissing Shri K. P. D. Tiwari, Peon, from the service of the company with effect from 21st November 1961? If not, to what relief is he entitled?"

2. After the parties had filed their written statements, the dispute was fixed for hearing on 10th October 1962, when after the submissions of the parties had been heard at some length, the parties recorded a settlement by which it was agreed that without prejudice to its contentions the employers in relation to the National Insurance Company Limited, Bombay will pay Shri K. P. D. Tiwari, the workman concerned, the sum of Rs. 600/- in full and final settlement of his claims and dues against the company including his claim for reinstatement in service. S.O. 3268.—In pursuance of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (14 of 1947), the Central Government hereby publishes the following award of the Industrial Tribunal, Bombay, in the industrial dispute between the employers in relation to the Punjab National Bank Limited and their workmen.

BEFORE THE CENTRAL GOVERNMENT INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, BOMBAY.

REFERENCE No. CGIT-26 of 1962

Employers in relation to the Punjab National Bank Limited

AND

Their workmen.

PRESENT:

Shri Salim M. Merchant, Presiding Officer.

APPEARANCES:

For the employers:—Shri Chakrapany Raghavachary, Manager.

For the workmen:—Shri K. K. Mundal, Vice-President. All India Bank Employees' Association, with Shri R. M. Sorakhe, General Secretary, Punjab National Bank Employees' Union Nagpur.

STATE: Maharashtra.

INDUSTRY: Banking.

Bombay, dated 11th October 1962

AWARD

The Central Government by the Ministry of Labour and Employment's Order No. 51(22)/62-LRIV dated 3rd August 1962, made in exercise of the powers conferred by clause (d) of sub-section (1) of section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (14 of 1947) was pleased to refer the industrial dispute between the parties above named in respect of the subject matters specified in the following schedule to the said order for adjudication to me:—

SCHEDULE

"Whether the demands of the employees of the Gandhibagh Branch of the Punjab National Bank Limited, Nagpur, for (i) equipping the Tiffin Room with crockery and furniture; and (ii) for making a capital grant of Rs. 150/- per mensem to the Sports Club, are justified, and if so, what relief are the employees entitled to?"

2. By a subsequent Order No. 51(22)/62-LRIV dated 17th September 1962 the Central Government was pleased to make the following amendment to its order dated 3rd August 1962, reproduced above:—

"In the Schedule to the said order, for the figures and words "Rs. 150/- per mensem", the figures and words "Rs. 150/- and a recurring grant of Rs. 15/- per mensem" shall be substituted.

3. After the parties had filed their written statements, the dispute was taken up for hearing at Bombay on 10th October 1962. At the hearing I refuse an application for adjournment made on behalf of the management to consider the written statement of the union, as it was ascertained that a copy of the written statement of claim of the union had been received at the Nagpur Branch on 5th October 1962. On the contrary, it was the union which was not furnished by the management with a copy of its written statement though directed to do so by the notice of the Tribunal. The union was given a copy of the company's written statement only at the hearing.

4. It appears that the Punjab National Bank Ltd., has two branches at Nagpur—one at Kingsway and the other at Gandhibagh. The demands stated in the schedule are made on behalf of the employees of the Gandhibagh branch.

5. The first demand is that the Bank should be called upon to equip the tiffin room at Gandhibagh Branch with crockery and furniture. After I had heard the submissions of the parties, considering that the company had supplied crockery and other articles for the tiffin room in its branch at Kingsway, I suggested to the management that they should offer some money for the purchase of crockery for the room which is being used as a tiffin room by the staff of its Gandhibagh branch and the company at the hearing offered to pay Rs. 100/- before Diwali for purchase of crockery etc., which offer was accepted by the union in settlement of demand No. (1), and I therefore, award accordingly.

6. With regard to the second demand for a capital grant of Rs. 150/- and a recurring grant of Rs. 15/- per month, to the Sports Club, it was ascertained at the hearing that no outdoor games are being played by the Gandhibagh Branch staff, but only carrom is played inside the tiffin room. In the absence of any sports club the demand for a capital grant of Rs. 150/- and a recurring grant of Rs. 15/- per month appears to be premature. I, therefore, suggested at the hearing that if the employees of the Gandhibagh branch start any outside sports activities they may make an application to the Bank for a capital grant for the purchase of some sports articles and recurring monthly grant. In view of this suggestion demand No. 2 was not pressed by Shri K. K. Mundal of the union and I, therefore, make an award accordingly on demand No. (ii).

7. No order as to costs.

2. In the order of reference dated 23rd June 1961 none of the stevedores or shipping agents mentioned above were specified as parties. Subsequently the stevedores and shipping agents described above were made parties in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section 5 of Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act by an order dated 26th August 1961. There was also an erratum notification dated 7th October, 1961 correcting certain mistakes in the addresses of parties given in the notification dated 26th August 1961. The addresses of the 26 workers whose names are given in Appendix A in the schedule to the order of reference were furnished by the Government of India on 9th November 1961. The addresses of the 9 workers whose names are given in Appendix B to the schedule were found in the order of reference itself.

3. The three unions filed separate statements. Employers 1 to 13, who are stevedores, filed separate statements raising identical contentions. The employers 14 to 47 are steamer agents. Of these 21, 24, 33, 34, 39, 42 and 47 filed separate statements. 14 to 18, 20, 25, 26, 28, 29, 31, 32, 36, 37, 44, 45 and 46 together filed a joint statement. The remaining steamer agents did not file any statement. Of the 26 workmen in Appendix A, except numbers 3, 4, 5 and 26, all others filed a joint memorandum stating that they had no complaint and that their interests were safeguarded by the Cochin Port Thozhilali Union. But the remaining 4 i.e., numbers 3, 4, 5 and 26 in their separate representation urged their claim for decasualisation and registration stating that they possessed all the requisite qualifications for registration. The 9 workmen in Appendix B filed a joint statement requesting for registration. A few other workers also filed independent petitions requesting that their names should be registered. Replies were filed by the Cochin Thuramugha Thozhilali Union and the Cochin Port Thozhilali Union.

4. It is not necessary at this stage to repeat the contents of the pleadings of the parties on the various issues. The relevant points in the pleadings are referred at appropriate places. The unions as well as the employers adduced evidence on all the issues. The former examined 13 witnesses (marked Ext. W 1 to W 169), while the latter examined 5 witnesses (marked Ext. M 1 to M 19).

5. It would be sufficient for present purposes to refer to the developments since 1951/52. At that time the workers organised themselves into Unions. Rivalry among the unions as well as the method of recruitment of and payment to the labour by the mooppans created problems. Disputes consequently arose and in July, 1951 and October, 1952 the Government of India, in two separate notifications, referred these disputes, along with disputes pertaining to headload labour and boat crew for adjudication. An interim award was first passed by Shri Viswanatha Iyer and this was subsequently followed in 1954 by a comprehensive award by the Central Government Industrial Tribunal, Madurai, presided by Shri E. Krishnamurthy, known as the 'Madura Award'. In the meantime, supply of stevedore labour came to be firmly established in the hands of two unions, the Cochin Thuramugha Thozhilali Union and the Cochin Port Thozhilali Union. From about 1954, the issue of tokens of employment to the workers also passed to the Unions, who supplied gangs to the Stevedores on receipt of indents from them. This latter change had far reaching consequences in that for practical purposes the stevedores ceased to be employers, except for purposes of payment, and no gangs were continually employed by any Stevedore. In spite of this, a practice which was previously prevalent in Madras stuck on here also, namely, each Stevedore had to pay a retainer of Rs. 25 to 15 although in practice they were not retained or employed regularly by that Stevedore.

6. In respect of stevedore labour, the salient features of the Madura Award were provisions regarding registration of workers by a Committee known as Administrative Committee consisting of three representatives of labour, two representatives of employers, one representative of steamer agents and the Administrative officer; for the maintenance of registers of employers and workers; for payment of remuneration of Rs. 4/8/- for day shift and Rs. 5/8/- for night shift for each stevedore worker with an extra amount of Re. 1-4-0 for a tindal and Re. 1/- for a winchman; fixation of out-turn of 20 tons for bag cargo, 18 tons for coal and sulphur, 11 tons for general cargo per hour per hook; payment of incentive at Re. 0-13-0, Re. 1-1-0 and Rs. 1-7-0 for bag cargo, coal cargo and general cargo respectively per dead-weight ton in excess of the normal out-turn and reduction of wages for fall in out-turn etc. In short, the Award was modelled on the Dock Workers (Regulation of Employment) Schemes then being introduced in the Ports of Bombay and Calcutta. During the subsequent years, although the Administrative Committee invited applications and entered the names of workers in two registers, for one reason or another, the work was not completed. And although the provisions regarding rates of wages, overtime etc. in the Award were implemented, the provisions regarding output, incentive, penalty etc. were not enforced.

7. The position resulting from the non-implementation of the Madura Award was that a time-rate system with higher wages came into force. With the progress of time, the evils of this system began to show up and there were increasing demands from workers for speed money, overtime and other forms of extra remuneration without proportionate increase in output. In short, although the rates of wages were higher than in other ports, the out-turn was uncertain and depended entirely on the whims of the gangs. The Shipping Companies complained of increasing costs, but the Stevedores had no control over the workers and could not do anything. The stage was thus reached when it became evident that there could be no improvement unless a proper piece rate system was introduced.

8. In 1959, the Government of India published the Cochin Dock Workers (Regulation of Employment) Scheme. The Scheme provides for the formation of a Dock Labour Board consisting of four representatives of labour, four of employers including steamer agents and four Government nominees, registration of employers and workers; payment of a guaranteed minimum wage and other benefits; procedure for taking disciplinary action against employers and workers who fail to carry out their obligations under the Scheme or under the Standing Orders under the Scheme; appointment of necessary officers etc. The schedule to the Scheme enumerated the classes or descriptions of dock work and dock workers to which it applied viz.—

- (i) stevedoring work including handling of passengers baggage (other than cabin baggage and mail stowed in the holds);
- (ii) the following categories of stevedore workers:
 - (a) General Foreman (Serang),
 - (b) Tindal, |
 - (c) Winchman and
 - (d) Stevedore mazdoor.

The relevant provisions of the Scheme will be referred to while dealing with the issues.

9. The first meeting of the Dock Labour Board was held on the 5th October, 1959. At this meeting the Board appointed two Committees for registration of workers and for evolving a piece-rate scheme etc. Owing to various reasons, however, the Committees had difficulties in dealing with their work. The Piece Rates Committee could meet only once. The Registration Committee, which was converted into a one-man Committee, owing to the non-attendance of Union representatives, compiled a tentative list of registration. The original decision of the Board was that the list should be prepared on the basis of seniority as represented by the length of service of the workmen. Owing, however, to non-availability of information regarding length of service of the workers, the Committee compiled the list on the basis of the age of the workmen. This was not acceptable to the Unions.

10. It was in these circumstances that the Central Government was approached to refer the entire dispute for adjudication. The notification regarding my appointment was issued on 23rd June, 1961, and it also set out the terms of reference, which included the compilation of a list of workers to be registered and the preparation of a piece rate scheme for stevedore labour.

11. In order to acquaint myself of the working of the Scheme including the piece-rate Schemes in Bombay and Madras and at the suggestion of the parties, I visited Bombay and Madras between the 10th February, and 22nd February, 1962. During my study tour I was accompanied by the representatives of stevedores and steamer agents. Although the Unions had promised to accompany me, unfortunately they did not. In any case it was only a study tour and their absence has not affected my findings. In order to assist me in working out the details of an acceptable and rational piece-rate Scheme for Cochin, I also appointed Shri K. K. Mehta, Secretary of the Bombay Dock Labour Board, as an Assessor.

12. As the evidence progressed it appeared that the climate was favourable for a compromise settlement at least on some of the main issues. On the eve of the commencement of arguments I invited the parties concerned for an informal discussion on the various points at issue. Discussions were held from the 11th to the 14th July, 1962. These were attended by all the parties and also by Shri K. K. Mehta and by Shri S. C. Seth of the Bombay Stevedores Association. As a result of the meetings, a settlement was arrived at between the parties on the two major issues of compensation and piece-rate Scheme. The settlement also covered certain controversial matters like the number to be registered, gang strength etc. I am happy to record that the discussions were conducted in an atmosphere of give and take, and the assistance of Sarvashri Mehta and Sheth was specially valuable in resolving differences. The Agreement reached at the meeting forms part of the Award and is appended as 'Annexure A'.

I now deal with the issues in the dispute serially:—

13. Issue No. 1.—How the list of workers to be registered under clause 18(1) of the Cochin Dock Workers (Regulation of Employment) Scheme, 1959 is to be finalised in conformity with the decisions of the Cochin Dock Labour Board and also taking into account the list of workers compiled by the One-man Registration Committee.

(a) Number to be registered.—The relevant clause in the Cochin Dock Workers (Regulation of Employment) Scheme, 1959 pertaining to fixation of number of workers is quoted below:

Cl. (17)—Fixation of number of workers on the register: The Board shall in consultation with the Administrative Body determine, before the commencement of registration in any category, the number of workers required in that category.

The number required for registration was fixed by the Cochin Dock Labour Board in its resolution No. 3(a) as follows:—

"The number of stevedore workers to be registered in respect of general cargo should be fixed at 1,116 inclusive of the permanent workers under the various stevedores and in respect of bulk cargo at 462

It has subsequently been agreed in the Settlement of 14th July that this number of 1,578 will be increased by 250, thus raising the total to 1,828 subject to rounding for complete gangs.

(b) Number to be registered in each category.—Of the 4 categories mentioned in clause (16) of the Cochin Scheme, it is not necessary in the Award to deal with the category of General Foreman. The supervisory staff, who in other ports are known as General Foremen (Serangs), are known in Cochin Port as supervisors and they are all direct employees of the stevedores on monthly salaries and that may continue to be so. The number to be registered in the other three categories viz. Tindal, Winchman and Stevedore mazdoor are given below. The numbers in brackets indicate the number from each of the two Unions viz. the Cochin Thuramugha Thozhilali Union and the Cochin Port Thozhilali Union respectively—

Section A	General Cargo.	Section B	Bulk Cargo.
(a) Tindal	(78+26) = 104	(20+16) =	36
(b) Winchman	(156+52) = 208	(40+32) =	72
(c) Stevedore mazdoor	(702+234) = 936+3	(260+208) =	468+1
Total	1,248+3		576+1
Grand total	(1,248+576) =		1,824+4=1828

The above categorisation need not be taken as rigid and the same can be relaxed to suit actual needs. In other words, the number in each category viz. tindal, winchmen, mazdoors in the same union may be varied according to requirements. The above figures in each category have been proposed, for convenience, with reference to gang strength which has been agreed to by the parties in the Settlement dated the 14th July, 1962 (Annexure A), but as winchmen are not compulsory under the Settlement, their number may need adjustment on the basis of requirements.

(c) Method of registration.—Clause 18 of the Cochin Dock Workers (Regulation of Employment) Scheme, 1959 provides as follows:

"18. Registration of existing and new workers: 1. (a) Any dock worker who, immediately before the coming into force of the Scheme, is in the employment of any employer to whom the Scheme applies, shall be eligible for registration".

While the above clause lays down the condition regarding eligibility for registration, the priority to be given and the qualifications necessary for selection of the required number from among the eligible candidates have been laid down by the Board in its resolutions 3(a) of 1960-61 and 20 of 1959-60—

Resolution No. 3(a) of 1960-61:

".....priority for recruitment should be on the basis suggested by the Chairman" i.e. "priority for registration should be given to the men who have formerly registered with the Administrative Committee (mentioned in the Award of the Industrial Tribunal, Madurai) and who have now applied to the Dock Labour Board".

In other words, the first requisite for selection for registration from among the eligible applicants was that they should have applied both to the Administrative Committee and the D.L.B. in 1954 and 1959. Again, resolution No. 20 of 1959-60 has laid down the following qualifications—

- (i) experience including seniority,
- (ii) physical fitness and
- (iii) efficiency.

The first task was, therefore, to prepare a list of 1,959 applicants who had also earlier applied to the Administrative Committee. For convenience, this can be called the 'Priority List'.

14. My terms of reference direct that in preparing the list of persons to be registered, I should take into account the report of the One-man committee which has been referred to in an earlier paragraph. This report has been marked Ext. W. 151. It is a valuable report and was particularly useful in that it listed the persons who were eligible for registration. Sri Jayarama Rao, the One-man Committee, has taken considerable pains in the compilation of the list on the basis of the information given by the two unions viz. the Cochin Thurmugha Thozhilali Union and the Cochin Port Thozhilali Union. The candidates in the list were sent for medical examination by the Committee to assess their physical fitness. From among the physically fit, selection was made by the Committee on the basis of age of the workers. Explaining why age was adopted as the basis of seniority, Shri Rao in his report has stated, "But there are some difficulties in judging the seniority among these priority candidates. For one thing, no records whatsoever are available about the workers or their service. (Perhaps there are records; it is not possible to get at them. Neither the unions nor the employers were prepared to confide in me and partake in the determination of such seniority.) After considerable thought, I felt that using an indirect method, perhaps, experience including seniority of workers could be judged. This indirect method is to co-relate the age of workers with experience. In other words, It is to be taken for granted that the greater the age of a worker, the greater his experience and seniority."

As stated earlier, however, the report of the One-man Committee was not acceptable to the unions. Apart from this, the report did not strictly conform to the decision of the Dock Labour Board to adopt experience as a basis for determining seniority. To this extent, therefore, it is defective.

15. During the course of the hearings, the two unions viz. the Cochin Thurmugha Thozhilali Union and the Cochin Port Thozhilali Union agreed to file lists of their members arranged in the order of seniority and these lists were filed by them towards the end of September, 1962. The eligible workers from C.T.T. Union are given in Annexure B and these from C.P.T. Union are given in Annexure C. I have checked these lists to ensure that all the persons included are priority candidates and weeded out the medically unfit workmen. I have also verified that the workmen included in the seniority lists of the unions are eligible for registration in terms of clause 18(1). For this purpose, I have decided that 1st November 1962, which is the date agreed to by the parties in the Memorandum of Settlement dated 14th July 1962 for implementation of the Scheme, should be regarded as the date of commencement of the Scheme and that all persons who were in employment immediately before that date would be eligible for registration.

16. There is some difficulty in applying the test of efficiency in the selection of candidates for registration. In this connection I agree with Shri Rao that efficiency as applied to more or less an unskilled category such as stevedore workers is difficult to judge in the absence of individual records of service of the workers. I have, therefore, assumed that all the candidates who are otherwise eligible for registration satisfy the test of efficiency. On this basis, I have compiled a list of candidates to be registered. This list contains the names of workers in order of seniority belonging to both unions. Annexure B is the list of C.T.T. Union workers and Annexure C gives the list of C.P.T. Union workers and all of them are registered as reserve pool workers.

17. Issue No. 2.—How the list of workers who should be registered as temporary workers according to the relevant decision of the Cochin Dock Labour Board is to be drawn up.

Regarding this issue, the parties have, in the Memorandum of Settlement dated the 14th July, 1962, agreed as follows:—

"The workers who applied in 1954 but are not being registered by the Dock Labour Board and those who did not apply in 1954 but applied in 1959 and are physically fit and below the age of 60, will be placed in a separate list of casual workers to be prepared by the Dock Labour Board. Such workers shall be given employment only when registered workers are not available. Selection to the reserve pool will also be made from this list. They will not enjoy any benefit whatsoever available to the registered workers. While preparing the above list, priority will be accorded to such workers who had applied both before the Registration Committee and the Dock Labour Board provided they are physically fit."

The list of casual workers will be prepared by Dock Labour Board as per the provisions of the clause in the deed of settlement given below.

18. Issue No. 3.—How the 26 workers (mentioned in Appendix A) expelled by the Cochin Port Thozhilali Union are to be accommodated and whether the 9 unattached workers (mentioned in Appendix B) are to be listed or not.

All the 26 workers whose names are given as Appendix A in the schedule to the order of reference were C.P.T.U. members and all of them were expelled from that Union in 1960. Subsequently, 22 workers again joined that union. All these 22 workers have filed one joint memo stating that they have no complaints to make and that their interests are safeguarded by the Cochin Port Thozhilali Union. The Cochin Port Thozhilali Union has included in their seniority list all these 22 workers. All these workers have the requisite qualifications for registration and I have included their names in the reserve pool workers of the Cochin Port Thozhilali Union. There remains the case of four other workers included in Appendix A. Their numbers in the Appendix A are 3, 4, 5 and 26. These four workers did not subsequently join the Cochin Port Thozhilali Union; nor did they join the Cochin Thuramugha Thozhilali Union. Shri T. K. Aravindakshan, No. 4 in the Appendix A, filed a memorandum in the Court on 1st December, 1961 praying for registration of his name as a permanent worker. Although in his memo he has stated that he had applied to the Administrative Committee in 1954 and the Dock Labour Board in 1959 for registration, he has not given the relevant application numbers. It was, therefore, not possible to verify his contentions. His memo was posted for evidence on 9th July, 1962 and he was given registered notice, intimating the date of the posting of the case for evidence. But he did not adduce any evidence on 9th July, 1962.

All the four workers (Nos. 3, 4, 5 and 26) together filed a petition requesting that their names should be registered. This petition has been registered as M.P. 88/61. Advocate Shri K. A. Subramaniam appeared for these four workers. In their petition they have not stated that they have the requisite qualifications for registration. Although in the petition they stated that they would submit their statement of the case afterwards, they did not do so. M.P. 88/61 was also posted for evidence on 9th July, 1962 and their advocate Shri K. A. Subramaniam was given a registered notice. None of the four workers adduced any evidence regarding their title to registration, either on that day or on the subsequent day. In these circumstances and also because none of the workers is in employment immediately prior to 1st November, 1962, I hold that they are not entitled to registration.

19. The 9 workers, whose names are given in Appendix B in the Schedule to the order of reference, filed statements requesting that they may be registered. Advocate Shri M. M. Abdulkhader appeared for all these 9 workers. The argument of Shri Abdulkhader was that the registration of workers should not be confined to the members of the Cochin Thuramugha Thozhilali Union and the Cochin Port Thozhilali Union alone. He contended that all eligible workers employed in the dock must be given the benefit of registration. While I agree with this contention in principle, the workers should, nevertheless satisfy the other conditions prescribed for registration. These workers are not only not working at present, but have not been employed as dock workers for a long time. This is borne out by the evidence of W.W. 13, Shri Achambi Joseph. He is worker No. 3 in Appendix B. He stated that none of them i.e. workers Nos. 1 to 7 (including himself) has worked in the Docks since 15th September, 1953. These seven workers are not, therefore, eligible for registration under clause 17 of the Cochin Dock Workers (Regulation of Employment) Scheme, 1959.

The learned counsel of the Cochin Port Cargo Labour Union who is appearing for the 9 workers examined W.W. 12 and W.W. 13 to prove the case of these 9 workers. W.W. 12 is Shri N. K. Ibrahim. His serial number is 9 in the Appendix B. He stated that himself and worker No. 8 in Appendix B viz. Shri J. Thobias are doing rigging work under stevedore Shri Paul Abrao. Rigging is not a category specifically covered by the Scheme. In any case, according to the Settlement dated 14th July, 1962 the question of registration of riggers in the Cochin Dock Workers (Regulation of Employment) Scheme arises only when any of the riggers in the direct employment of the employers is not retained in that capacity by the employer. Nos. 8 and 9 in the Appendix B will continue as riggers under Shri Paul Abrao as they are retained by him in their present capacity.

20. Issue No. 4.—Whether compensation is to be paid to workers who cannot be registered under clause 18(1) of the Cochin Dock Workers (Regulation of Employment) Scheme, 1959 and if so, the quantum, mode and liability of individual employers for payment of such compensation.

On this issue, as stated earlier, a settlement has already been arrived at by the parties on the 14th July, 1962, viz.:

- “(e) The parties agree that the workers who would otherwise be eligible to be registered but for their old age or unfitness on medical grounds, will be paid a lump sum compensation of Rs. 39,000 to be divided amongst all such workers for loss of registration.”

The above term of settlement is fair and reasonable and I pass an award accordingly.

21. Issue No. 5.—How a piece-rate scheme for the decasualised workers is to be framed.

On this issue also the parties have arrived at a settlement, viz.

- “(f) The parties agree to accept and implement the attached scheme of piece-rates not later than 1st of November, 1962.”

- (g) The parties feel that it is desirable to put the refrigerated cargo also on piece-rates. However, the question of datum lines will be separately discussed between the parties within a period of one month and in the event of no settlement being reached on this question, the matter will be referred to the arbitration of the Labour Commissioner of Kerala Government.”

The deed of settlement is given below as 'Annexure A' and I pass the award in terms thereof. The terms are fair and reasonable and I pass an award accordingly.

22. Issue No. 6.—Any other question connected with or arising out of the foregoing matters.

The following workers submitted applications requesting registration:—

1. Ayyan Kunjan.
2. Kunhan Kanderi.
3. Pizhangan Padmanabhan.
4. Narayanan Kumaran.
5. Ayyappan Sivaraman.
6. K. T. George.
7. C. O. Anthappan.
8. P. K. Beerankutty.
9. K. H. Abdulkarim.

Of the above 9 workers, the names of workers from 2 to 5 already been included in the list submitted by the Cochin Thuramugha Thozhilali Union. They are senior workers eligible for registration. They also possess the other requisite qualifications for registration. I have registered their names accordingly. The other 5 workers are not found to be sufficiently senior and as such they are not eligible for registration and they are not registered.

23. In view of the fact that the provisions of this Award are different from those of the Madura Award, the provisions of the latter relating to Stevedore labour shall be deemed to have been abrogated from the date this Award coming into force.

24. In the settlement deed, the representatives of the Port Cargo Labour Union have not signed. None of the workers in the Dock is a member of this union. At present the Port Cargo Labour Union is interested only in the nine workers whose names are given in Appendix B. Of these nine workers, the first seven were out of employment from 15th September, 1953 and the last two are permanent riggers under the Stevedore Shri Paul Abrao. All the stevedore workers are members of either C.T.T.U. or C.P.T.U. and the deed of settlement given below as Annexure A was finalised by all the parties representing all the employees and employers in the Cochin Dock and is fully representative. The Shipping Agents have given their full consent to all the terms of settlement through advocate Shri P. K. Kurian and the same given below as Annexure D.

25. I give in Annexure E below the names of chargemen and foremen under various stevedores. These workers are not registered. They are in fact senior to the category of tindals. If the stevedors dispense with the services of the workers in Annexure E, they will be given preference in employment.

26. In conclusion, I consider that the terms of the Settlement are fair and shall be implemented except where subsequently modified by mutual agreement. With effect from the date this Award comes into force, any practice whether by labour or employers which is contrary to the provisions of this Award shall cease. Similarly all payments not authorised by this Award, including retention money, speed money etc. shall cease to be paid.

27. I pass the award on terms and conditions set out above and the same shall become enforceable after 30 days of its publication or at an earlier date as fixed by Government.

Central Government Industrial Tribunal,
Ernakulam.

ANNEXURE A

This Memorandum of Settlement is arrived at Cochin on 14th July 1962 between the United Stevedores Association representing the Stevedore Employers and the Cochin Thuramugha Thozhilali Union and the Cochin Port Thozhilali Union (hereinafter referred to as the Unions) representing their member Stevedore Workers working in the Port of Cochin.

It is hereby agreed as follows:—

(a) The parties agree that a request will be made to Cochin Dock Labour Board to increase the strength of workers on the Registers of the Board by 250 i.e. to 1,828.

The 250 additional workers will be registered in the reserve pool in the same ratio between the Unions as was previously agreed by the Dock Labour Board and the selection will be made from those persons who are eligible for registration in accordance with the priority prescribed by the Board.

(b) The workers who applied in 1954 but are not being registered by the Dock Labour Board and those who did not apply in 1954 but applied in 1959 and are physically fit and below the age of 60, will be placed in a separate list of casual workers to be prepared by the Dock Labour Board. Such workers shall be given employment only when registered workers are not available. Selection to the reserve pool will also be made from this list. They will not enjoy any benefit whatsoever available to the registered workers.

While preparing the above list, priority will be accorded to such workers who had applied both before the Registration Committee and the Dock Labour Board provided they are physically fit.

(c) If any of the Winch Drivers registered as such with the Dock Labour Board desires to be categorised as a mazdoor, the Board will be requested to agree to the same.

(d) If any of the Riggers in the direct employment of the Employers is not retained in that capacity by the employer, the Board will be requested to agree to absorb such Riggers in the reserve pool as Tindals.

(e) The parties agree that the workers who would otherwise be eligible to be registered but for their old age or unfitness on medical grounds, will be paid a lump sum compensation of Rs. 39,000 to be divided amongst all such workers for loss of registration.

(f) The parties agree to accept and implement the attached scheme of piece-rates (Appendices A and B) not later than 1st November 1962.

(g) The parties feel that it is desirable to put the refrigerated cargo also on piece-rates. However, the question of datum lines will be separately discussed between the parties within a period of one month and in the event of no settlement being reached on this question, the matter will be referred to the arbitration of the Labour Commissioner of Kerala Government.

(h) The workers have to report for booking for the present in the call stand to be arranged at Fort Cochin or Mattancherry not exceeding one hour before the commencement of the shifts. The transport charges of the workers from the call stand to the workspot and back will be met by the employers.

(i) In view of this overall settlement between the parties, the Unions agree to advise the members to make all possible efforts to increase their productivity.

(j) The parties agree to make a joint request to the Government of India through the Port Authorities to apply a similar piece-rate scheme to their shore crane drivers in order to ensure the success of the piece-rate scheme. The scheme for the crane drivers should be introduced simultaneously with the stevedore workers.

(k) The parties will request the Tribunal to make a consent award in terms of this settlement.

APPENDIX 'B'

Piece-rate Scheme for Stevedore Labour

The Piece-rate Scheme for Stevedore Labour shall be subject to the following provisions and conditions:—

1. The Stevedore worker shall be paid the following all inclusive wages for Time Rated operations provided in the subsequent paragraphs of this appendix:—

Tinal	Rs. 5.75 nP.
Winch Driver	Rs. 5.50 nP.
Mazdoor	Rs. 4.50 nP.

2. When workers are employed in the night shift comprising of 3 hours, each worker will draw, besides his earnings on Time Rate or Piece Rate; Rupee One per Shift.

3. The Piece Rate Wage of a Mazdoor shall be processed upon a wage of Rs. 5.00 per day.

The Piece Rate Wage of the Tinal and the Winch Driver, wherever employed, shall be determined by adding to the Piece Rate Wage of the Mazdoor, the differentials of Rs. 1.25 nP. and Re. One respectively.

4. The Piece Rate Wage shall be calculated upon the datum lines prescribed in Appendix 'A' provided that if work is done in excess of the shift hours in any day, the calculation shall be upon the respective datum increased in proportion to the total number of hours worked.

In addition to the Piece Rate Wage, the workmen shall be entitled to over-time pay for work in excess of the shift hours, whether day or night, at an hourly rate equal to 1/8th of the time rate wage:

Provided further, that if work has been done for a certain number of hours and certain other hours are counted an idle time, as provided for in clause No. 6 or are to be paid for at the time rate (for which purpose any broken period of time less than 15 minutes shall be treated as 15 minutes) under the provisions of this appendix, then for the purpose of calculating the piece-rate wage; the datum line shall be proportionately reduced. If for example the datum line is 80 Tons for an 8 hour shift and only 6 hours are worked—2 hours being idle time or used up for time rated operations—then the datum will be reduced to 60 tons.

5. The Piece-rate Wage of the Mazdoor shall vary as described below with the proportion which the out-turn of the gang in the shift bears to the datum line as above determined.

For a shift fully occupied in Piece-rate work, the piece-rate wage of the Mazdoor shall rise uniformly from Rs. 3.75 at 75 per cent to Rs. 5.00 at 100 per cent of the datum line. Thereafter the piece-rate wage shall rise uniformly to the rate of Rs. 4.06 for every increase of 50 per cent above the datum line.

6. (a) An allowance shall be paid at the daily wage rate (one-eighth per hour in case of 8 hour shifts) for periods that labour is rendered idle on account of any one of the following reasons:—

- (1) Breakdown of cranes or winches;
- (2) Shifting of quay cranes or rigging of ships derricks;
- (3) Cargo not ready for shipment;
- (4) Late arrival of vessel at the berth;
- (5) Completion of loading and/or unloading before the end of the shift;
- (6) Actual rain-time during shift working hours;
- (7) Changing of Vessels from one berth to another berth;
- (8) Any other person beyond the control of workmen except slow work on the part of workmen covered by the reference.

Idle time shall be calculated as follows, viz., any continuous stoppage of work of 15 minutes and under shall be ignored and any continuous stoppage in excess of 15 minutes and up to 30 minutes shall be counted as 30 minutes. If the said continuous stoppage continues in excess of 30 minutes the actual excess rounded off to the next quarter hour shall be calculated as idle time. For example, if there is continuous stoppage for 35 minutes, the idle time will be calculated as 45 minutes.

(b) The following item of work shall be treated as time rate jobs and paid for at rates mentioned in Clause 1:—

- (i) Shifting of cargo and dunnage.
- (ii) Handling of ammunition and hazardous cargo.
- (iii) Handling of mail and passenger baggage.
- (iv) Handling of Heavy lift packages individually weighing in excess of five tons.
- (v) Handling of animals.

7. When cargo is discharged or loaded with two hooks working simultaneously in a hatch, 1/4th of the time rate wage shall be added to the piece work earnings of each member of the gangs working at such hooks, and to the piece work earnings of the winchmen, if any. When more than 2 hooks are utilised in a hatch one-third of the daily wage shall be added instead of one-fourth.

8. Rs. 3.75 shall be the minimum guaranteed wage per day on which a Mazdoor is given employment. If on any day, the piece-rate earnings and idle time payment and/or other earnings under this appendix, fall short of the said minimum, the employer shall make up the difference for that shift.

The minimum guaranteed wage referred to above shall be exclusive of the differentials in wage to be added to the earnings of Tindals and Winch Drivers. This would be exclusive of the night shift allowance of Re. 1/- payable to workers working at night.

9. The earnings of each individual workman shall be rounded off to the nearest Naya Paisa.

10. The datum line applicable to the vessel shall be notified on a board accessible to the gangs concerned.

11. In calculating the output the basis shall be dead weight tons. Tonnage under half ton shall be ignored and tonnage of half ton and over shall be calculated as one ton.

12. Where extra gang workers are sent for helping, the piece-rate wage shall be processed on the respective datum increased in proportion to the number of extra gang workers supplied. In addition one-fourth of the time rate wage shall be credited to the piece-rate earnings of every worker in the hatch.

13. If the workers are required to report for duty earlier than the scheduled time, they shall be paid overtime at double the time rate wage for the actual period of early reporting.

14. Overtime work will be confined to the meal-time interval or between the termination of the day shift and commencement of the night shift except in case of the night shift where overtime work may be extended upto 5 A.M.

15. The output of cargo (wherever handled by the Port Authorities) discharged or loaded on the quay shall be calculated according to the tally maintained by the Port Authorities for shore gangs. In all other cases, the output of the cargo handled shall be calculated according to the tally maintained by the shipping company or by the employers. The employers shall ensure the maintenance of a proper hook-wise tally; failing this, they shall maintain the tally themselves.

16. The employer shall arrange to record all idleness and all time rated work under Clause 6 and timings required under this appendix.

17. If there is no tally clerk on a hook the wages of the gang working on that hook shall be paid at the time rate wage for the period that there is no tally; such period being rounded off to the next quarter of an hour.

18. All piece-rate payments shall be liable to review in the light of the returns of the Ship's Agents. Discrepancies, if any, revealed by such review shall be adjusted by supplementary payment or deduction, as necessary. Provided that no adjustment shall be made where the discrepancy does not exceed one per cent.

19. If any new item of cargo is imported or exported in sizable quantity or if new methods of operation of handling are introduced which necessitate revision of datum lines, the same shall be discussed between the parties and in the event of no agreement being reached, the matter shall be referred to an Arbitrator mutually acceptable to the parties.

20. For purposes of Minimum Guarantee as provided under Clause 31 of Cochin Dock Workers (Regulation and Employment) Scheme, 1959, for paid leave, paid holidays and all other benefits that the Cochin Dock Labour Board may confer, the wage rate shall be the Time Rate wage as mentioned in Clause No. 1 above.

S.O. 3271.—In pursuance of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (14 of 1947), the Central Government hereby publishes the following award of the Labour Court, Bangalore, in the matter of an application under section 33A of the said Act from Shri H. Abdul Rahim Assadi, Supervisory Clerk of the Vijaya Bank Limited.

BEFORE THE PRESIDING OFFICER, CENTRAL GOVERNMENT LABOUR COURT, BANGALORE

COMPLAINT NO. 2 OF 1962

IN

REFERENCE NO. 1 OF 1960

Dated this 3rd day of October 1962

PRESENT:

Sri R. Krishna Setty, B.A., LL.B., Presiding Officer, Central Government Labour Court, Bangalore.

Complainant:

Sri H. Abdul Rahim Assadi, Supervisory Clerk, The Vijaya Bank Ltd., Mangalore-1.

Vs.

Respondent:

The Management of Vijaya Bank Ltd., Mangalore-3.

AWARD

1. This is a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 by Sri H. Abdul Rahim Assadi, Supervisory Clerk, in the respondent Vijaya Bank Ltd., Mangalore-3 for transferring him from the Bombay branch office to the Head Office at Mangalore on 18th May 1961 during the pendency of an industrial dispute in Reference No. 1/60 on the file of the National Industrial Tribunal (Bank Disputes) at Bombay.

2. By an Order No. S.O. 705, dated the 21st March 1960, the Central Government being of the opinion that an industrial dispute existed or was apprehended between the banking companies and corporations specified in Schedule I, to the said Order and their workmen in respect of matters specified in Schedule II thereto, which were either matters in dispute or matters connected with or relevant to the dispute, and that the dispute involved questions of national importance and also was of such a nature that industrial establishments situated in more than one State were likely to be interested in, or affected by such dispute, and being further of the opinion that the dispute should be adjudicated by a National Tribunal, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (1A) of section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, referred the said dispute to the National Tribunal for adjudication. The Complainant and the Respondent bank were parties to that reference. During the pendency of that dispute it is said that the respondent bank transferred the complainant from the Bombay branch office to the head office at Mangalore depriving him of the special allowance of Rs. 40 in violation of paragraph 537 of the SASTRY AWARD and in that way contravened the provisions of Section 33(1) (a) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. Briefly stated the case for the complaint, as could be seen from his petition is this. He was a senior clerk attached to the Bombay branch office of the respondent bank—Class 'C' banking company. He was entrusted with the duties of a supervisory nature and on that score was paid an extra allowance of Rs. 40 per month from 1st January 1960. In paragraph 164 B (9) of the SASTRY AWARD, a special allowance of Rs. 40 per month was made payable to an employee of Class 'C' bank who was entrusted with additional work of supervisory nature entailing greater responsibility. He availed himself of privilege leave for 2 weeks with effect from 3rd April 1961 and extended it by one month. During the said period, it is said that the respondent bank transferred him from the Mangalore head office and thereafter to the City branch. It was alleged that it was a transfer between two language areas and as such the bank should have obtained the letter of consent from him under paragraph 536 of the SASTRY AWARD while effecting the transfer. It was also said that the complainant was deprived of Rs. 40 per month which was drawn by him at Bombay while effecting the transfer. His grievance therefore is that the respondent bank violated the provisions of paragraph 537 of the SASTRY AWARD and that the National Tribunal should direct it to restore his special allowance of Rs. 40 per month from the date from which the same was withheld, and that he should be transferred back to Bombay and enable him to draw the arrears of D.A. accrued so far. The management of the respondent bank resisted the complaint petition on the grounds that the transfer was effected in the exigencies of service only, that the complainant belonged to Mangalore and as such the employee was not transferred to different language area and that the sum of Rs. 40 per month paid to the employee was only an extra allowance for performing additional work which was of a temporary nature and as such there was no reasonable justification for the complainant for claiming any reliefs before the Tribunal.

3. After the receipt of this complaint the National Tribunal registered it as complaint No. 246 of 61 in Reference No. 1/60 and transferred the proceedings connected with this to the Labour Court at Madras in exercise of the powers conferred by Section 33B of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 read with Government of India Notification dated 17th July 1961. Subsequently the Government of India, Ministry of Labour and Employment by their Order dated 1st July 1962, in exercise of the powers conferred by Section 33B(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 withdrew the proceedings in relation to this complaint and transferred it to this Labour Court constituted by Notification of Government of India in Ministry of Labour and Employment No. S.O. 1613 dated 21st May 1962 with me as the Presiding Officer with a direction that I should proceed with the complaint from the stage it was transferred and dispose of the same according to law.

4. When the complaint came up for consideration in Mangalore on 21st September 1962 both parties submitted that they had squared up the matter amicably outside the court and filed a joint memo of settlement to that effect and prayed for an award being passed in terms of it. I see therefrom that the respondent bank has conceded the claim of the complainant for being considered as supervisory clerk entitled to Rs. 40 per month as allowance from 18th May 1961 to 31st May 1962 and in view of it the complainant has agreed not to claim any allowance for that period. It is further seen that the complainant had no objection to his transfer either to Mysore or Bangalore as a supervisory clerk or for the payment of a Supervisory Allowance of Rs. 40 per month from 1st June 1962. The Bank has agreed to it. Further the complainant would be entitled to D.A. and Provident Fund benefit on the supervisory allowance from 1st June 1962. In my opinion these terms are fair and just and also beneficial to the complainant.

5. For these reasons I make an award in terms of the memo of settlement a copy of which shall be made a part of this award and is annexed herewith.

Dictated to the stenographer, transcribed and then corrected by me.

COMPLAINT NO. 2 OF 1962

Sri H. Abdul Rahim Assadi, Supervisory Clerk, The Vijaya Bank Ltd., Bangalore.—Complainant.

Vs.

The Vijaya Bank Ltd., Mangalore.—Respondent.

Joint Memo filed by the Complainant and Respondent. It is agreed between the Complainant and the Respondent Bank as follows:—

1. That the Bank concedes the claim of the complainant for being considered as Supervisory Clerk entitling to Rs. 40 per month as allowance from 18th May 1961 to 31st May 1962. In view of this, the complainant agrees not to claim any allowance for such period.

2. The Complainant will have no objection to his transfer either to Mysore or Bangalore as a Supervisory Clerk and he will be paid Supervisory Allowance of Rs. 40 per month from 1st June 1962.

3. The Complainant will be entitled to D.A. and P.F. benefit on the Supervisory Allowance from 1st June 1962.

The above agreement is reached with the mediation of Sri V. R. Kamath, General Manager (on leave) The Canara Banking Corporation Ltd., Udipi after considering every aspect, in the interest of the concerned parties.

It is agreed that each party is to bear his costs.
